Pitbulls attack 7-year-old boy, leave him critical; owner faces arrest

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

TWO pitbulls mauled a seven-year-old boy who returned home from school, leaving his face disfigured and with 58 stitches, in RKM Layout near KR Puram, Old Madras Road.

A Lithin, son of M Arun and Venilla, and a Class 2 student, was attacked by the two pitbulls last Monday afternoon. On finding the dogs roaming free on the ground floor, Arun called the dog owner K Ranjith, to take the dogs in. This led to an argument during which Ranjith is alleged to have provoked the dogs to attack the child.

Arun filed a complaint against Ranjith, 26, and Anil Kumar, the building owner. Ranjith lives on the first floor, while Arun's family resides on the ground floor.

Around seven months ago, the same dogs had attacked the boy and his mother. The building owner had warned the tenant not to unleash the dogs when children were playing.

"The right side of my son's face has been disfigured due to the bites of the dogs, and he needed 58 stitches. He is unable to bear the pain, and his condition is critical. Ranjith requested us to withdraw the complaint, and assured us that he would bear all the medical expenses. But I refused his favour. We moved to the house last December, and Ranjith's family had moved in one month earlier. If the owner had informed us about the dogs, we would have not taken the house. After the earlier attack, the owner did not take any measures to ensure that the other tenants were safe. Ranjith had assured us that he would sell the dogs but has not kept his word. Earlier there were three pitbulls, of which one was sold," said Arun, who works with a battery manufacturing firm. P3

'SCHOOL ENROLMENTS DOWN DUE TO DECLINE IN CHILD POPULATION'

The overall enrolment in schools will have declined by more than 14% by 2025, a new study by National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) has projected. From 2011 to 2025, the enrolment of boys and girls will decrease by 13.28% and 15.54%, respectively. The enrolment of SC students will remain unchanged for the next 5-10 years, while that of ST students will face stagnation after 2023-24, the study has projected

Vikrant sets India sail towards developed nation: PM

MAYANK SINGH AND MANOJ VISWANATHAN @Kochi

WITH Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday commissioning the country's first indigenously designed and built aircraft carrier INS Vikrant here, India became only the sixth country in the world capable of building a warship larger than 40,000 tonnes.

"It's not just a warship; it's the outcome of 21st century India's work and determination," Modi said. "Vikrant is the manifestation of the dreams of the freedom fighters who envisioned a capable and strong India," he added.

Vikrant is also a symbol of India's talent and technology. "By fulfilling India's dream of building an indigenous aircraft carrier, our engineers and scientists have demonstrated the strength of the nation... Vikrant marks a crucial step in our march towards becoming a developed nation," the PM said.

Putting Vikrant in context amid Chinese aggression in the South China Sea, Modi said both the Indo-Pacific and the Indian Ocean are major defence priorities for the country. "That is why we are working in every direction, from increasing the budget for the Navy to increasing its capability." He added that a strong India will pave the way for a peaceful and safe world.

Vikrant will be amalgamated with its aviation assets by August 2023, after which it will be fully operational. The PM also unveiled a new Naval ensign that is inspired by Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj's octagonal seal, saying it has taken off a burden of the India's slavery.

"The twin octagonal borders draw their inspiration from Shivaji Maharaj Rajmudra or the Seal of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, one of the kings with a visionary maritime outlook, who built a credible Naval Fleet that earned grudging admiration from European Navies operating in the region at the time," the Navy said. The earlier fouled anchor, which is associated with colonial legacy, has been replaced with a clear anchor in the new ensign.

PM: India's growth engine running at full capacity

VINCENT D'SOUZA @Mangaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday said that every sector related to the growth engine of the country is running at full capacity as the the policies and decisions made by his government during Covid-19 pandemic played a key role in the country's development and the progress are reflected in the recent GDP figures.

He was addressing a mammoth gathering of more than one lakh people after dedicating and laying foundation of mechanisation and industrialisation projects worth around Rs 3,800 crore in Mangaluru.

"Last year, despite so many global disruptions, India's exports were worth a total of $670 billion (Rs 50 lakh crore). Despite several challenges, India made a new record of merchandise export of $418 billion (Rs 31 lakh crore)," he said. P4

After 2 months in jail, Setalvad gets interim bail

SC relief till Gujarat HC decides on plea for regular bail in forgery case tied to 2002 riots

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday granted interim bail to activist Teesta Setalvad, who has spent over two months in jail after being charged with forgery and fabricating records in connection with the 2002 riots cases.

The bail was granted a day after the SC took a serious view of the delayed listing of the activist's regular bail plea in the Gujarat High Court. The SC relief is till the high court decides her bail prayer. Setalvad has to surrender her passport and will be bound by the conditions set by the trial court, the bench of Chief Justice U U Lalit and judges S R Bhat and Sudhanshu Dhulia said.

Following a request by senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for Setalvad, the bench directed the trial court not to insist on local security for her release on interim bail. She should be released on submission of cash security, the SC order said.

Setalvad was arrested on June 25 by the Gujarat ATS, a day after the SC dismissed a plea by Zakia Jafri—the widow of Congress MP Ehsan Jafri who was killed in the 2002 riots—for a probe into larger conspiracy behind the incident. A criminal case was registered against Setalvad and former police officers Sanjiv Bhatt and R B Sreekumar for allegedly fabricating records to implicate authorities including the then the state government officials.

While granting her bail, the top court noted that the allegations pertained to the period of 2002 and the woman petitioner had already undergone custodial interrogation for seven days. "It is made clear that relief has been granted in a peculiar case and that she happens to be a lady. This shall not be used by other accused as and when the occasion arises," the court said in its order.

The SC relief came after Setalvad challenged the order of City Civil and Sessions Court, Ahmedabad rejecting her bail and the Gujarat HC's decision to list her bail plea only on September 19.

Objecting her bail plea, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta said, "Your lordship has seen the nature of the conspiracy. It's not ending with the petitioner. It's starting with her. These are powerful people. This has been going on since 2002. Maligning campaigns have to be stopped. There is not some misunderstanding but a calculated conspiracy to achieve a particular goal."

Murugha Mutt seer sent to 4-day police custody

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chitradurga

MURUGHA Mutt pontiff Dr Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru, who is facing charges in a case filed under the Protection of Children against Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, was remanded in four-day police custody on Friday in Chitradurga.

Pontiff Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru being taken for health check up, in Chitradurga on Friday | EXPRESS

The Second Additional District Judge B K Komala allowed the seer's custody to the police to question the accused after hearing arguments by Special Public Prosecutor K B Nagaveni. The court directed the investigating officer to produce the pontiff before the court on September 5 at 11 AM.

High drama prevailed since Thursday night when the seer was arrested from the mutt premises. He was admitted to the district hospital after he complained of chest pain, hypotension and variation in sugar levels, after which a series of treatments was started at the ICU of the district hospital.

As the doctors of the district hospital were inconclusive on the type of treatment to be given to the pontiff, they decided to summon cardiac specialists Dr Srinivas and Dr Mallesh from Davangere, who conducted tests and found variations, after which advanced treatment was suggested.

The jail superintendent submitted a report to the court, seeking permission to shift the seer to a hospital with better facilities. The court then issued directions to the police to present the pontiff before it, and heard all the pleas, after which the application for police custody was allowed. CONTINUED ON: P4

BWSSB TO COUGH UP ₹55,000 FOR STOPPING WATER SUPPLY

Consumer panel also quashes Rs 1,91,826 bill sent to complainant

YATHIRAJU @Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) has to pay a woman from Malleswaram Rs 55,000 for disconnecting her water supply instead of replacing the faulty meter, despite numerous complaints and representations submitted by her from 2018.

The Bangalore Urban Second Additional District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission directed the board to pay Rs 55,000, including Rs 50,000 as compensation and Rs 5,000 as litigation expenses, to the complainant, 53-year-old B Sadashivamma.

Passing the ex-parte order while partly allowing the complaint, the commission, comprising president M Shobha, members B Devaraju and V Anuradha, also directed the BWSSB to restore the water connection to the complainant immediately by replacing the defective meter.

Quashing the communication dated May 19, 2021, issued by the BWSSB claiming an exorbitant bill of Rs 1,91,826 from the complainant, the commission said, "The evidence of the complainant and documents remained unchallenged by the BWSSB. There is no reason to disbelieve them. Under these circumstances, the complainant has clearly established the deficiency of service and negligence on the part of BWSSB authorities. When the complainant has not availed water, she is not liable to pay the amount."

According to the order, the complainant used to get Rs 100 to Rs 200 every month towards water charges. As there was defect in the meter, she submitted a representation in August 2018 stating that she is getting abnormal bill for Rs 2,000 to 3,000 every month. The board also started issuing the bill for borewell calling upon her to pay Rs 500.

She also filed a written complaint stating that the meter was stopped and she had not been getting water supply from BWSSB from January 2017.

Hence, she also requested that the water supply be restored. Sadashivamma also clarified that she was not using borewell and was not using water for commercial purpose.

Though she submitted several representations, the BWSSB did not considered them, but allegedly threatened her that they will disconnect the sewage connection and make her life miserable. It also claimed an exorbitant bill of Rs 1,91,826. Hence, she approached the commission.

Misty mornings in September, thanks to record rain in Aug

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BENGALUREANS perplexed over the rain pattern, and especially the winter-like misty mornings in the city in the past couple of days, may have an answer: Environmentalists and ecologists say this is due to the record rainfall of 366mm in the city in August.

Prof J Srinivasan from Divecha Centre for Climate Change, IISc, noted that he had witnessed similar weather some 22 years ago, in 1988, and credited greenery and water bodies for it.

Compared to cities like Delhi or Mumbai, Bengaluru is much cooler as it still has some greenery. Earlier, after a spell of rain, there would be mist on the ground and grass the next day or even after two or three days. The city is an urban heat island surrounded by a lot of cool areas, hence this type of weather, said Srinivasan

Agreeing with the senior expert, Shrinivas Badiger from Ashoka Trust for Research in Ecology and Environment opined that it is also an impact of global warming and greenhouse impact.

"There is reduction in green cover and water bodies, which used to act as a buffer against heat and excess rain. Green cover and lakes used to balance the extreme weather, and as these are reduced, there is a change in weather pattern," he said.

A N Yellappa Reddy, senior environmentalist, said the weather pattern has changed both at the micro and macro levels. Increase in concrete buildings, release of nano particulate matter and air pollution has caused a change in cities at the micro level, and in a broader sense, the blasting of hill rocks, cutting of mountains, pollution and release of acids and toxins in water bodies has impacted climate at the macro level. Hence, such unpredictable weather, he added.

Meanwhile, the India Meteorological Department (IMD) Bengaluru has issued a rainfall warning for a few more days.

Floods, potholes drive some schools back online

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WITH rain wreaking havoc in Bengaluru and aggravating problems of waterlogging, bad roads and traffic gridlocks, a few schools have reverted to the online mode, adopted during the pandemic.

The fear of flooding and other dangers pose challenges to parents in sending their wards to school. I had complained many times to local authorities, but no one is ready to listen to us. We have to pick up and drop our kids and are always in fear," said one parent.

Some schools have, however, already switched to online classes, citing poor weather conditions. Inventure Academy, situated in Whitefield, one of the worst-hit areas in the city, announced that it had switched to online classes for the week.

"As the monsoon continues to wreak havoc on the city's burdened and weakened infrastructure, we went back to online school this week. Internet & electricity shortages, treacherous, potholed roads and the ensuing traffic snarls are keeping our teachers and students home, but not without learning," the school said in a social media post on Wednesday.

Other private schools have also moved online due to poor weather conditions in and around North Bengaluru, due to flooding and poor infrastructure. In fact, the recent deluge had led the government to order closure of schools on August 30.

The issue of conducting online classes, unheard of before the pandemic, has become a popular option for schools during poor weather conditions, or medical concerns apart from Covid.

Last month, some schools had shifted to online mode due to an outbreak of hand-foot-and-mouth disease among children.

When offline classes began, some private schools had found it preferable to continue online classes due to inadequate transport and poor attendance on the part of students. The number of schools that have switched to online classes seem to be limited, but other schools have also previously switched between offline and online classes due to poor weather conditions.

PETER VIDAL

03RD September : Scientists are now describing the origin of the Universe very much in the same style we find in the Vedas. They believe that initially everything consists of rippling energy. At a certain point someone, or something – rolled a dice – and one of the ripples became a wave. And that wave then grew bigger and bigger. It took on a life of its own, becoming our universe!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Life goes on, and on. And on! Therefore, please don't be taken in by the thought that today's planetary aspects, reckless and imprudent as they can be, give you any sort of permission to let go or abandon course in mid-stream. Stick with it and you won't regret your determination.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Venus, your planetary ruler, now casts a rosy glow over home and family affairs. This is a very useful indication indeed, mainly if you're recovering from recent disagreements. More importantly, after today you'll be able to make up your own mind!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It doesn't matter whether you are considering other people's proposals, or making your own. It's not a question of right or wrong, but of realising that once you have made a final decision you must stick with it. Once today has passed, there will be no going back.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You have a great deal to learn when it comes to money. There's no doubt about that. That doesn't mean, though, that anyone has the right to take advantage of you. Use this happy time to make a fresh start on a domestic matter or revitalise a family relationship.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Three cheers for mischievous Mercury, which endows you with all your bright ideas. Now is the moment to make up your mind and aim for solid, lasting agreements. You have around seven days to reconsider your plans, in spite of all current distractions!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
On a superficial level your chart talks of positive trends around travel, excursions and overseas contacts. The deeper perspective indicates that you have much to learn from turning into your dreams. Strangely enough, a day-dream might show you the way forward in an unlikely personal goal.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Coming events at home will test your bargaining power, not to mention your social skills. The catch? Well, you need partners' support and approval! But how can you get it? Perhaps you could take a little trouble to find out exactly what they want. Listen carefully to every word!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Never again must you allow yourself to be pushed into a corner. For the second day running, the Moon is giving you the chance to mend fences and build bridges. And about time too, you may say! It might be difficult to offer an apology, but the effort should be worth it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You appear to be searching for something, but what? Any astrologer will tell you that the purpose of your journey through life is not to arrive, but to travel. Now, as ever, you will find that, having reached a goal, it soon ceases to satisfy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Today's stars are all about love, affection and personal fulfilment. Where and how you will find these is another matter, but you should prepare the way by being completely open to whatever happens, putting aside your prejudices and personal preconceptions.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
A great deal of good should come out of recent dramas. At the very least you should now have a much better idea of who your friends are. You may resolve family and domestic problems as soon as you have faced up to awkward issues involving such complicated matters as a possible cash crisis.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Just how much you owe other people will soon become apparent. Helpful changes at home over the weekend focus on relationships with reluctant people. Maybe you need to work harder at explaining to them just why it's in their interests to back you all the way.

Lokayukta takes suo motu action against health officials, hospital

Seeks explanation for deficiencies from hospital authorities; next hearing on Oct 20

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TAKING note of the several deficiencies found during the recent surprise visit to 21 state government hospitals, including those run by Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike in Bengaluru, to check on services, facilities, medicines, surgical equipment, laboratories and general issues, the Karnataka Lokayukta initiated suo motu proceedings against the State government, Health and Family Welfare department authorities and heads of hospitals concerned.

Exercising suo motu powers under Section 7(1) and 9(3)(a) of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act, Lokayukta Justice BS Patil directed that proceedings be registered against the Principal Secretary, Commissioner, Health and Family Welfare department, and authorities of respective hospitals, and sought their explanations.

"If doctors are not available during working hours to attend to patients, it not only causes inconvenience and hardship to patients, but the object of establishing government hospitals is defeated. The deficiencies pointed out the need to be attended to for quality healthcare in hospitals. Reports received show a lack of supervision on the part of higher officers of the hospital," the Lokayukta said in the order.

He also said that government hospitals are established to provide effective healthcare to poorer sections of society, which cannot afford treatment at private hospitals. Any dereliction of duty on the part of officers entrusted with the responsibility of providing effective and quality healthcare in hospitals results in denial of right to life and liberty, guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution, he added, adjourning the hearing to October 20, 2022.

CRIME PATROL

Sandalwood trees stolen from golf club, 8 held

Bengaluru : Eight interstate sandalwood tree poachers who had cut and stolen a sandalwood tree from the Bengaluru Golf Club on Sankey Road have been arrested by the High Grounds police. Nearly 147 kg of sandalwood oil, 730 kg of sandalwood logs, and a cutting machine all worth around Rs 3 crore have been recovered. Accused had stolen a sandalwood tree from the golf club on August 1. BD Bhopaiah, estate manager of the club, had filed a complaint. The arrested are Govindaswamy, Maadhu, Venkatesh, Ramachandra, Wasim Baig, Ramachandrappa, Nanje Gowda, and Varadaraju. Of the eight, five are from Tamil Nadu and the other three are from Karnataka. They have stolen the sandalwood trees in Sadashivanagar, Jayanagar, Madiwala, KR Puram, Yeshwanthapur, and Kengeri.

Two held for gang-raping woman

Bengaluru: Two car drivers have been arrested by the Viveknagar police on charges of kidnapping and gang-raping a 25-year-old woman. The accused are Akhilesh (25), a native of Ballari, and Deepu (21), from Hassan. The police said that the incident allegedly took place on August 31 night. The woman, a B.Com dropout, had gone to Ejipura 10th cross in the evening. She noticed two men following her on two bikes. The accused accosted her and offered to drop her and forcefully made her sit on a bike. While one accused was riding with her, the other followed them. "The accused allegedly kidnapped her and took her to an isolated place near Huskur, where they allegedly gang-raped her. She managed to escape and hid behind bushes. Later, she filed a complaint," the police said. Based on her complaint, the police traced the accused and arrested them.

Car lifters held, vehicles worth ₹1.2 cr recovered

Bengaluru: The Ashoknagar police have arrested two notorious car thieves and recovered nine cars worth Rs 1.20 crore. The police said the accused are Ayaz Pasha alias Moula (33) and Mathiud alias Matheen (32). The accused and their associates were allegedly involved in stealing cars in Delhi, Punjab, Himachal Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, and other states. "They changed the number plate and created fake documents and sold the stolen cars in Bengaluru. We have so far recovered nine cars. Efforts are on to trace their aides," the police added.

Three more monkeypox samples test negative

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THREE more samples of suspected cases of monkeypox, including the sample of a three-year-old child received at the Virus Research and Diagnostic Laboratory (VRDL) at Bengaluru Medical College and Research Institute (BMCRI) in Bengaluru, have come up negative too.

The samples were of a three-year-old boy from Chikkaballapura, a 47-year-old male from Bengaluru with a travel history to Paris, Madrid, Seville and Barcelona, and a 27-year-old male from Hoskote. With this, eight samples sent to VRDL have turned out negative for monkeypox. Yet, with rising cases of monkeypox in the US and nine cases of monkeypox reported in India, the state health department is on high alert.

HC REJECTS BAIL PLEA OF DRUG TRADE ACCUSED

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court declined to grant bail to Rajesh, who is among the accused allegedly selling narcotics like ganja, hashish oil and LSD strips to known customers, college students and IT-BT workers.

Justice K Natarajan rejected the bail petition of A Rajesh, who was working as warehouse in-charge at Domino's Pizza. "The investigation is still under progress. Accused no. 4 is still absconding. Considering this aspect, I am of the view that this petitioner is not entitled for bail until pending investigation," the judge said.

The accused approached the high court as the sessions court declined to grant bail in a case registered by Kumaraswamy Layout police station for offences punishable under the provisions of Narcotic Drugs and Psychotrophic Substances Act.

The police arrested Rajesh, a resident of Azad Nagar, along with other accused persons, and seized 5kg of ganja, 260gm of hashish oil and 20 LSD strips in May 2022 from the house of an accused residing at Kumaraswamy Layout.

'Building owner too responsible'

THE incident happened around 3.30pm on Monday, but Arun filed the complaint on a later date as the family was busy in hospital. After the attack, Ranjith is said to have hidden the dogs.

"Both the accused will be arrested. The condition of the boy is really bad. The building owner is equally responsible as he did not take any precautionary measures after the previous incident," said an officer attached to Avalahalli police station, and who is part of the probe.

The Karnataka government appointed actor Sudeep as the brand ambassador for Punyakoti, a cow adoption initiative by the Department of Animal Husbandry, on his birthday, to reach out to a wider audience. Animal Husbandry Minister Prabhu Chavan appealed to actor Sudeeep in a letter to join hands with the government to push the Punyakoti scheme. Sources in the department said that the actor is doing it for free.

Water waste! Why desalination plant in DK district, ask experts

Project at Rs 677 crore will produce only 30 MLD, while 44 rivers flow through district

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

EVEN as Prime Minister Narendra Modi laid the foundation stone for a desalination plant in Mangaluru and dedicated it to the nation on Friday, water experts and environmentalists questioned the need to spend Rs 677 crore on the project that will desalinate only 30 million litres of water per day.

For the entire year, the plant will desalinate only 1 tmcft of water, while 2,000 tmcft of fresh water from the Sharavati river flows into the sea. Also, 44 other rivers pass through Dakshina Kannada district, discharging humongous amounts of water into the sea. When the district has such an abundance of water, what is the necessity of this plant, they asked.

Well-known environmentalist and head of Environment Support Group, Leo Saldanha, said, "To promote a desalination plant in Dakshina Kannada, one of the most rained and water-rich regions of the world, is clearly a preposterous idea and wreaks every bit of a corrupt idea in practice. In all, 44 rivers flow down the windward slopes of Western Ghats and reach the sea making extraordinarily productive estuaries. There is more than sufficient water for sensible rural and urban development in the region if the forests in the ghats are protected, and farms and wetlands are not destroyed. But there can never be enough if one proposes to turn Mangaluru into another Mumbai. It will simply be unsustainable and will destroy the entire region."

He said, "The desalination plant presupposes sea water is abundant and there are no adverse impacts. The brine will result in a saline shock that will ruin marine ecosystems. Besides, the plant demands enormous electricity and is expensive. Does India have such revenue streams?"

A senior official of the water resources department said, "It is true that areas along the West Coast have abundant water resources. But there is also a flip side as most urban areas here are hit by water scarcity. This is because of lack of dams and storage facilities. Even the Yettinahole reservoir along the Netravathi River has relatively small storage. To ensure that urban areas are not hit by scarcity they are considering desalination. There could be more desalination plants to alleviate water problems."

Congress called the project a waste of precious resources. Opposition leader in the Assembly Siddaramaiah said, "It is wholly unnecessary to spend such large sums of money on desalination in a district which possesses such high amounts of fresh water resources."

Opposition leader in the Council BK Hariprasad, who hails from Dakshina Kannada, said, "As millions of litres of fresh water flows down Dakshina Kannada into the Arabian Sea every day, they are trying to desalinate a mere 30 million litres of salt water. It is hundred times easier to build small storage facilities and save small amounts of fresh water flowing into the sea. This is definitely not to cater people's needs."

JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy said, "It is just a white elephant. It will not benefit the common man."

Former Science and Technology Minister and Rajya Sabha MP Kapil Sibal, during whose period the department conducted desalination research and concluded that desalination was possible for about 30 paisa per litre, said, "Desalination plants in coastal areas cannot be a permanent solution to the problem of water shortage. This can only be an interim solution until you find a real solution."

MODI'S TIP TO BJP LEADERS: PUBLICISE GOVT PROGRAMMES

Mangaluru: Prime Minister Narendra Modi, during the State BJP Core Committee meeting, asked the members to give wide publicity to government programmes, and ensure that every household knows about the government's achievements. After addressing the public gathering at the Gold Finch City ground, Modi held an informal meeting with members of the state BJP Core Committee at Mangaluru helipad, before taking the chopper to the Mangaluru International Airport. State BJP president Nalin Kumar Kateel introduced the members to the PM, who took stock of the implementation of central and state programmes.

Murugha mutt seer Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru being taken to a hospital for health check-up in Chitradurga on Friday | EXPRESS

Mahantha Rudraswamy is interim head of mutt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chitraduga

WITH the arrest of chief pontiff of Murugha Mutt Dr Shivamurthy Murugha Swamiji in a Pocso case, the mutt administration has given the responsibility of the mutt to Mahantha Rudraswamiji of Hebbalu mutt, which comes under this religious centre.As the interim head, Mahantha Rudraswamiji will take care of day-to-day activities of the mutt and also smooth running of educational institutions, programmes, social service initiatives and other activities of the mutt. The religious institution runs schools and colleges, holds social service activities and also has a large number of properties that need to be protected, mutt sources said. Mahantha Rudraswamiji, who is taking care of Hebbalu Rudraswamy Mutt -- a branch of the Murugha Mutt, has been given the responsibility considering his seniority, they added.

Social worker Anith Kumar GS has been appointed as personal secretary to the seer.

Seer faces NBW in cheating case

ENS @ Bengaluru

In more trouble for Muruga Mutt pontiff Dr Shivamurthy Muruga Sharanaru, a city court has issued a non-bailable warrant against him in connection with a cheating case registered in 2010.

The Kengeri police had booked the seer and another person, identified as Anand Kumar, for cheating and criminal breach of trust based on a complaint filed by one, P S Prakash alias Panchi, a devotee of the mutt.

The complainant had alleged that the mutt has properties across the country and also a 7.18 acre land in Sulikere village of Kengeri hobli in Bengaluru south. As president of the mutt, Sharanaru allegedly sold the said land to Anand Kumar fraudulently. The complainant accused the seer of selling the land to Kumar for Rs 49 lakh while its market value was around Rs 1 crore per acre, causing a loss to the tune of over Rs 7 crore to the mutt.

The police had filed an FIR and submitted a chargesheet to the court.

The 4th Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate (ACMM) court, which is hearing the case, issued a non-bailable warrant against the pontiff and Anand Kumar on Friday, adjourning the hearing till November 10.

'We seek huge opportunities'

"While the service sector and the entire electronic manufacturing sector grew manifold, the import of toys decreased in the last three years and its export increased", Modi said.

He added, "Today is a red letter day in the history of India. Be it territorial security or economic security, India is witnessing huge opportunities." These projects will increase the ease of living, generate employment and boost 'One-District-One-Product' scheme facilitating the availability of market for the products of fishermen, artisans and farmers of the region, he said. PM stressed the need to take full advantage of the country's 7,500 km coastal line stating that it will boost tourism.

Stating that the country has witnessed a significant increase in coastal traffic over the years, he said the government is making efforts to further improve port connectivity and therefore, under PM Gatishakti National Master Plan, more than 250 projects of Railways and roads have been identified which will help in seamless port connectivity.

Bommai says double-engine govt has benefitted Karnataka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mangaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday said the 'double-engine government' has brought a lot of developmental works to Karnataka. "Many people ask what development has the double-engine government done to the state. It has brought the Sagarmala project, got approval for the CRZ master plan by simplifying the norms, got approval for Mazali port in Karwar and got 100 high-speed fishing boats for the fishermen of Karnataka," he said.

Further, Bommai said that the projects dedicated and laid foundation stone by Prime Minister Narendra Modi in Mangaluru on Friday will stimulate growth in the region. The CM thanked the PM for the works on extension of the ports in Mangaluru and Karwar.

Union Minister for Ports, Shipping and Waterways Sarbananda Sonowal said major ports in the country have witnessed unprecedented development in the last few years thereby boosting the blue economy. The coastal cargo has doubled while the inland cargo movement has increased, he added.

PM Modi symbolically handed over the Kisan Credit Card and deep sea fishing vessels to three beneficiaries.

Learning about custody, seer breaks down

THE court then directed the investigating officer to provide better treatment to the pontiff if needed and bring the same to the notice of the court.

On learning about the police custody, the pontiff wept in the court and was taken back to the hospital for treatment in a police vehicle. He was later discharged from the hospital and handed over to the police for investigation. The defence advocates, filing an application under 41 (D) of CrPC, requested the court to allow their presence during interrogation of the seer by the police, to which the prosecution objected. The court, while over-ruling the prosecution's objection, however allowed the defence lawyers' limited presence during interrogation.

A Ganesha pandal without Hindu Mahasabha leader VD Savarkar's picture

Most Vijayapura pandals don't put up Savarkar pic

MAHESH M GOUDAR @ Vijayapura

MANY organisers of Ganesha festival refrained from putting up pictures of Hindu Mahasabha leader VD Savarkar inside the pandals in the city.

Members of Sriram Sene had said that they would be distributing over 250 pictures of VD Savarkar to be displayed inside pandals during the week-long festivities. But most of the organisers did not put up pictures of either Savarkar or any other prominent personalities.

Of the 200 Ganesha idols in public places, a mere 10 to 15 have put up Savarkar's picture.

Speaking to TNIE, one of the organisers of the festival, Rahul Patil (name changed), pointed out, "We have been celebrating the festival over the past decade in our locality. We have never put up any pictures except of gods inside the pandal. We decided against putting up Savarkar's picture because it might hurt the sentiments of other people." "We will not entertain those who have an agenda to create nuisance in the community," said Shankar Biradar, organiser of Ganesh festival in one of the localities.

Speaking to TNIE, district president of Srirama Sene Neelkant K said, "We have reached out to maximum people with the drive. A section of people is trying to portray it as failure but we have succeeded." Meanwhile, the police had ordered that organisers have to take permission to display pictures of any freedom fighter or distinguished personalities inside the pandals.

"We have not received any application from organisers seeking permission to display photos inside pandals. No untoward incident has happened," SP HD Anand Kumar told TNIE.

GP member booked for felling trees

ENS @ Udupi

A GRAM panchayat member, who should have been a role model for others in protecting the environment, cut over 25 trees last week. The forest department officials have now booked him under provisions of the Tree Preservation Act.

The Hebri Gram Panchayat member, Vadiraj Shetty, who is a PWD contractor and also owns a stone crusher, felled the trees and stored them in his areca nut farm. Forest department officials, who got a tipoff, seized the timber on Thursday. Forest department officials said that during questioning, Vadiraj told them he was developing his areca nut plantation, and as the trees came in the way, he felled them without taking permits from the forest department. Forest and revenue department officials will conduct a joint survey to know if these trees were in patta or kumki land. In the latter case, the timber will be shifted to the forest department depot. If the trees were from patta land, the forest department may allow Shetty to own them after he pays a fine.

Hebri RFO Anil Kumar said Shetty had planned to introduce drip irrigation in his farm. He felled some coconut and areca nut trees initially. Later, he also felled some trees that have timber value, like jackfruit, wild jackfruit, bhogi and dhoopa (vateria indica). A non-cognisable offence case has been filed against Shetty.

Talks fail for Kunigal seat, ex-MP quits Congress

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

IN a major jolt to Congress ahead of the 2023 Assembly polls in the old Mysuru region, senior Congress leader and former Lok Sabha member from Tumakuru SP Muddahanume Gowda has decided to quit the party.

He met KPCC president DK Shivakumar and leader of opposition Siddaramaiah at their residences and conveyed his decision.

He is likely to join BJP and contest from the Kunigal Assembly seat, strengthening the saffron party base in the region. Political analysts, however, said the move could eventually benefit JDS. "It will directly affect the chances of Congress MLA Dr Ranganath in Kunigal," they added. Gowda tried to negotiate for the Kunigal seat, but talks failed with both Shivakumar and Siddaramaiah. They told him that incumbent MLA Dr Ranganath cannot be denied ticket in the 2023 polls.

"I asked the leaders to relieve me from the party, and conveyed my decision to former DCM Dr G Parameshwara over phone. I feel letdown. I was also denied a ticket in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls despite being a sitting MP. Later, neither any leader nor the party tried to compensate me with a Rajya Sabha nomination or an MLC post," he told TNIE. There will be no change in his decision, said the two-time MLA and president of the Tumakuru District Congress for over a decade. In the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, he had to sacrifice his ticket as former PM HD Deve Gowda was the Congress-JDS alliance candidate who lost to BJP's GS Basavaraju.

After Ganesha, clamour begins for Holi festival at Hubballi Idgah Maidan

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Hubballi

THE turmoil at Idgah Maidan in Hubballi is not likely to end with this Ganesha festival. Hindu outfits now want permission for Holi Kamanna installation for the Holi festival, at the same site.

This comes after Ganesha festival celebrations at the Idgah Maidan in Hubballi were permitted by the Karnataka High Court at the last moment. The Hubballi-Dharwad Municipal Corporation accordingly permitted the Ganesha Mandali to install the statue, but with multiple conditions.

Knowing the consequences, local authorities tried to deny permission for Ganesha installation, on the grounds that the matter is sensitive. Top police officials visited the historical ground, which has been used for Eid prayers by Muslims twice a year, and increased security around it.

"Organisers of the Ganesha festival and members of other organisations have sought permission from HDMC that they should be allowed to instal Kamanna and Rati statues during the Holi festival. It's a practice in North Karnataka to instal the statues during Holi festival," informed an official from HDMC.

"Last week, members of the Christian community had also sought permission to organise religious community programmes at Idgah Maidan. The matter will be taken up during the next meeting," the official said.

Now, going a step ahead, right-wing organisations in Hubballi are demanding a change in the name of Idgah Maidan to Rani Chennamma Maidan.

"The statue is iconic and at the central point of Hubballi city, and has featured in many famous Kannada numbers. We are demanding that the authorities name the grounds after Rani Chennamma of Kittur," said a member of a right wing organisation from Hubballi.

"The ground is famously known as Idgah Maidan for many years. The statue of Chennamma was installed in 1980. Even if someone changes the name, it will still be called Idgah Maidan. It's nothing but vote bank politics," said a social activist who had opposed the installation of Ganesha at Idgah Maidan in Hubballi.

Zameer Ahmed's son's film faces boycott call

Bengaluru: Hindu outfits have launched an online campaign to boycott the debut Kannada film of MLA BZ Zameer Ahmed Khan's son Zyed Ahmed Khan that is set to release in November. Members of the outfits held Zameer responsible for Ganesha festival not being celebrated at the Chamarajpet Idgah Maidan. The outfits, including Vishwa Sanathana Parishad, Hindu Janajagruthi Samithi and Srirama Sene, have given the call to boycott the film Banaras. When the Supreme Court ordered a stay on Ganesha festival at the contentious ground, Zameer felicitated senior advocate Kabil Sibal, they alleged. "He does not deserve our respect and our votes. His own set of sycophants and social media campaigners have engaged in spreading fake news to project him as a leader of the masses. Over the last 15 years, he promoted only anti-social elements in society, and should be defeated in the next Assembly elections," said S Bhaskaran, president of Vishwa Sanathan Parishad. ENS

HC now says EPS is AIADMK interim gen secy

R SIVAKUMAR @ Chennai

IN a big victory for former Chief Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami, a division bench of the Madras High Court has upheld his election to the post of interim general secretary of the AIADMK and set aside the August 17 order of a single judge that nullified the July 11 general council (GC) meeting in which he was elected to the post. The ruling validates the expulsion of O Panneerselvam and his supporters from the AIADMK. OPS also loses the AIADMK coordinator post which he regained after the single judge's order.

The bench of Justices M Duraiswamy and Sunder Mohan, which found no violation of the AIADMK bylaws in convening and holding the July 11 GC meeting, said the August 17 order of Justice G Jayachandran furthered "functional deadlock" in the party.

"By giving a direction that there shall be no executive council or general council meeting without joint consent of the coordinator and the joint coordinator, a situation has arisen where the party, as a whole, will undergo irreparable hardship since there is no possibility of the appellant (EPS) and first respondent (OPS) acting jointly to convene a meeting much less a GC to discuss the single leadership," the bench said. "The direction only furthers the functional deadlock that was already in existence in the party".

Referring to ratification of the party's decisions at the GC, the bench held that even if the coordinator and joint coordinator take any decision/action, the same is to be ratified at the GC meeting.

The bench, while pointing to the July 29 order of the Supreme Court, said the apex court directed the parties to maintain status quo as on 29 July, 2022, and not as on July 11, 2022. Therefore, it is clear that the resolutions passed on 23.06.2022 and 11.07.2022 were not disturbed till the pronouncement of the order by the single judge.

AIADMK workers celebrate Madras HC verdict by pouring milk on banners of former TN CMs MG Ramachandran, Edappadi K Palaniswami and J Jayalalithaa | P JAWAHAR

EPS HAILS VERDICT, OPS TO APPROACH SC

While EPS called the HC bench verdict historic, OPS said the order will be challenged before the Supreme Court. V Pugazhendi, a supporter of OPS, said since the bench had not ruled on the validity of the coordinator and joint coordinator posts, OPS and EPS continue to retain their posts and the latter cannot take any decision on party matters on his own.

FIBA U18 Women's Asian C'ship in B'luru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE International Basketball Federation's FIBA is scheduled to host the FIBA U18 Women's Asian Championship at Sree Kanteerva and Koramangala indoor stadiums, Bengaluru, from September 5-11. Participants from as many as 16 countries will take part in the event.

Speaking to media persons, Youth Empowerment and Sports Minister Dr Narayana Gowda said preparations weree well on track and full assistance is being provided to the Basketball Federation of India. Speaking about Khelo India's success in the city, he expected the same with this event as well.

With Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai saying that Bengaluru will be made the basketball hub, the minister said full support is being provided in ensuring the same and the government plans to achieve this in next five years. He also added that events like Khelo India and FIBA championship will majorly help in achieving the same.

The championship will be played in two division's - A and B. The countries participating in Division A are India, China, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, Chinese Taipei, Australia, and New Zealand. Hong Kong, Jordan, Malaysia, Maldives, Mongolia, the Philippines, Samoa, and Thailand are in Division B. Division A matches will be held at Sree Kanteerva Indoor Stadium and Division B matches will be held at Koramangala Indoor Stadium.

The first four teams from the championship will qualify for the FIBA U19 Women's World Cup to be held in Madrid in July 2023.

MORE RAIN MAY ADD TO FARMERS' WOES

ASHWINI M SRIPAD & V VELAYUDHAM @ Bengaluru, Kolar

EVEN as the south interior and other parts of Karnataka are in the grip of heavy rain for the last few days, the situation is likely to continue for the next one week.

The Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC) authorities say there are two to three turfs and wind circulation being formed near Arabian sea and Lakshadweep, that will pass through the south Karnataka region. This will intensify and from Sunday it is expected to cause more rain and damage crops further. This also means vegetable prices will shoot up in the coming days, a senior official of the Horticulture Department said.

Farmers who grow vegetables, especially in Kolar, and who supply produce across the state are in distress.

Meanwhile, Karnataka is witnessing heavy rain, especially in coastal, north interior, central regions and even Malnad.

In the last few days, south interior Karnataka — Kolar, Tumakuru, Chikkaballapura, Ramanagara, Mandya and Mysuru — has received good amount of rainfall. The rain in the last few days has damaged vegetable crops, especially tomatoes, carrot, cauliflower and many greens like coriander.

Tomato crop damaged

HR Kumaraswamy, Horticulture Deputy Director in Kolar, said, "Tomatoes are normally grown in 20,000 hectares but after the damage the cultivation area has reduced to 7,000 hectares. Tomatoes which were available for ₹15 per kg few days ago has now increased to ₹30 to ₹40 per kg now".

"Beans which were Rs 40 per kg last week are now sold for ₹50 per kilo, while the price of carrot, which was ₹70 per kilo three days ago, has shot up to ₹78 per kg. Prices of greens have also increased. One kg of coriander is now ₹150, while methi is ₹200," said a staff of HOPCOMS outlet.

Horrifying: Tree felled, 50 birds killed

A video grab showing the exact moment the tree was felled killing the birds

ENS @ Malappuram (Kerala)

HOURS after the indifferent felling of a tree killed dozens of birds living on it, and the video of it evoked widespread outcry, the forest department registered a case against the contractor and the highway authority on Friday. The tree was cut in Malappuram district on Thursday as part of highway widening. The case was filed against Andhra Pradesh-based company KNCL (contractor) and the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) for felling a tamarind tree at AK Padi in AR Nagar panchayat.

As per the forest department's report, around 50 birds including cormorants and egrets were killed. Tree branches came crashing on dozens who were too young to fly.

Deputy Forest Conservator (Malappuram division) Saji Kumar said three employees of KNCL have been arrested. "The forest department has registered a case against the contractor and NHAI under the Wild Life Protection Act. They hadn't taken permission from us to fell the tree. Even if they had got it, they are not supposed to cut the tree on which birds are living," Kumar said.

Tigers roam free on south Kodagu roads

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Madikeri

THE frequent sighting of tigers is giving sleepless nights to the people residing in rural parts of south Kodagu.

Several people have spotted tigers crossing the roads in broad daylight. Recently, passengers travelling in bus, saw a tiger crossing the main road in Nittur village.

Bopaiah A, a local resident, said, "One need not go to Nagarahole or other wildlife safaris to see a tiger as they can be easily spotted in the villages of south Kodagu including Nitturu and Karmadu. The authorities need to take preventive measures before something untoward happens. The increasing number of tourists to the forests is driving wildlife to the fringes."

Six human lives have been lost and over 200 cattle killed in tiger attacks since 2021 and there seems to be no solution in sight. It is high time the forest department did something about it, the villagers say.

Several missions undertaken by the forest department to capture the tigers in the past have failed.

While railway barricades have been put up and trenches dug out to control the elephant menace to some extent, nothing has been done to restrict the movement of tigers within forest limits.

CONG UNDER SIEGE AS TRANSPARENCY CHORUS GOES BEYOND G-23

The legitimate demand of Congress leaders for transparency in organisational elections has been met with veiled threats of disciplinary action. The force of the argument first put forward by a group of senior leaders, who've come to be known as a Group of 23 rebels or G-23, was so strong that it is now being voiced by many prominent Congressmen who are not part of the rebel group.

The chorus for inner-party democracy, with the immediate demand for conducting free and fair party elections, will continue to rise and reach a crescendo on the last date for filing nominations. The party leadership has been taken by surprise not so much by the content of what is being said, but by the people who are now saying it.

While it was easier to reject the G-23 as a band of aged and ineffective leaders screaming to stay relevant, there are no answers as to why young loyalists like Karti Chidambaram and Pradyut Bordoloi have had to go public with their demand. What is the demand that both the so-called rebels and loyalists are making? That the electoral rolls are made public so that the candidates are able to choose proposers who are part of the electoral college which was recently revised and given to the Congress Working Committee. Instead of accepting this reasonable demand, the leadership has deployed lackeys to attack those demanding that the basic requirements of the electoral process are met.

Rahul Gandhi has been the biggest votary of choosing party officials through elections. It was his idea that the new Congress president and the Congress Working Committee should be elected. Congress is probably the only party in the country that has elections to choose its office bearers. However, the nominated coterie around Rahul fears losing grip on party affairs if fair elections are held. The pushback is orchestrated by them. The fear is that if a non-Gandhi is elected as party president, he would pack the CWC with his own favourites leaving the current lords of the AICC out in the cold. It is time for the Gandhis to speak out if they are not behind the attacks on transparency advocates.

AFTER Q1 NUMBERS, GOVT CAPEX ESSENTIAL

Each time India releases GDP numbers, doubts and disagreements erupt just as morning follows a rooster's crow. The latest data dispatch showing a 13.5% growth rate in Q1 of FY23, too, saw the drill. The official print did sorely miss consensus estimates of about 16%, but what the latter inadvertently seem to have undercounted is the true extent of the Russia-Ukraine war and inflationary pressures on output. Next, concerns sparked on social media regarding the three-year growth, averaging at a dismal 3.3%, spilt over to comment pages and studio sofas. Still, considering the pandemic-year economic scarring, national output stood at acceptable levels. India is among the fastest growing global economies at a time when advanced nations like the US and EU are shrouded in recessionary fears, while China is witnessing an acute slowdown, with June quarter growth printing at a piffling 0.4%.

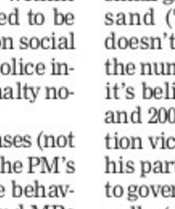
That said, we are yet to see broad-based growth. While services sector activity leapt to the top of the heap, manufacturing continues to have a rough trot. Household spending too may normalise once the festive season spending wanes, and exports could moderate on slower global growth.

That's why a government public Capex push and private Capex are needed to help make a recovery even, stronger and complete. India is in the clear as far as a recession is concerned. Still, it's staring at several global headwinds that could drag exports and slow down private investments, forcing economists to promptly revise their GDP projections to under 7% for FY23.

Yet, the RBI, keeping a weather eye on inflation, is unlikely to change course, and analysts expect at least another 50–60 bps rate hike by December. It means a higher interest rate regime is the new normal, and the lagged impact of higher borrowing costs on consumption and investments will kick in a quarter or two from now. The upshot is that tax collections seem promising, so the government must continue its Capex drive without leaning heavily on household and corporate spending to lift the GDP boat.

When Rishi Sunak and Sajid Javid quit within hours of each other, to be followed by several other ministers, even the famously non-stick Johnson knew the time was up

NEXT BRITISH PRIME MINISTER A TORY VOTE AWAY



DAVID HARPER

Journalist and Presenter in London

SOURAV ROY

So, who is selecting the new Prime Minister of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland?

That's not as stupid a question as it might seem. Let's first briefly recap why there is a spare room at 10 Downing Street in London in the first place. Boris Johnson's long-coveted spell as PM was as turbulent and controversial as many had predicted. A period most suspected would be dominated by the upheaval caused by Brexit (Britain's repeatedly-delayed exit from the European Union) ended up being dominated by the upheaval caused by a global coronavirus pandemic. The public was (initially, at least) mostly tolerant of restrictions introduced to fight the spread of the virus. This changed somewhat when it was revealed that the Prime Minister had attended several social events within Westminster—some proved to be in contravention of rules on social distancing, resulting in a police investigation and a 'fixed penalty notice' being issued to him.

Further rows over expenses (not least the bill to redecorate the PM's official apartment) and the behaviour of some Ministers and MPs continued to occupy the tabloids. The rise in criticism from within the party came to a head with a vote of no confidence by Conservative MPs at the beginning of June. The PM survived by 200 votes to 117—not a staggering show of support.

Johnson's strategy of bulldozing through the criticism, safe in the knowledge that in a day or two, another news story would replace him on the front pages, appeared to be winning. However, it was accusations that a senior member of his party—Chris Pincher—had engaged in sexual harassment at a London social club. The subsequent revelation of a history of complaints and rumours against him finally tipped the balance.

When Finance Minister Rishi Sunak and Health Secretary Sajid Javid quit within hours of each other—to be followed by a significant number of other ministers—even the famously non-stick Johnson knew the time was up. Two days later, Boris Johnson confirmed that (although not immediately) he would be leaving Number 10 and fired the starting pistol on the race to replace him.

And now, in a country approaching 70 million people, the next leader is being picked by a relatively small group approaching 200 thousand (The Conservative Party doesn't publish official details on the number of members it has, but it's believed to be between 150,000 and 200,000). Boris Johnson's election victory in December 2019 gives his party and their MPs until 2024 to govern without going back to the polls (unless they choose otherwise). This means that the next leader of the Conservative party automatically becomes Prime Minister without a General Election being called. Eight MPs obtained enough nominations from colleagues to enter the race and face a series of votes from MPs. Every round of voting eliminated the candidate with the least support until only two remained. They now face a vote, not from the whole country but just members of the Conservative party—the aforementioned 200 thousand-ish people.

This leaves us with Rishi Sunak and Liz Truss. Sunak is the son of immigrant parents of Punjabi descent, who enjoyed a meteoric rise under Boris Johnson, becoming (until his resignation) his Finance Minister, the Chancellor of the Exchequer. He's the man who guided Britain through the economic turmoil of the Coronavirus pandemic and the post-Brexit world. Truss was originally a member of the rival Liberal Democrat party before switching to the Conservatives and is currently Foreign Secretary. She's the woman who has guided Britain through the delicate international negotiations following President Putin's invasion of Ukraine and the post-Brexit world.

You might think that, in a modern democracy, choosing a new leader without polling the whole population would be deeply unpopular (and in some quarters, it is), but it's not uncommon. In the last 50 years, James Callaghan, John Major, Gordon Brown, Theresa May and Boris Johnson have all become Prime Ministers through a change of party leadership (although most on that list did later hold and win General Elections). Britain has a system where—in theory at least—people vote for the individual MP they want to represent them and their constituency, not the leader.

> You might think that, in a modern democracy, choosing a new leader without polling the whole population would be deeply unpopular (and in some quarters, it is), but it's not uncommon. ... Britain has a system where, in theory at least, people vote for the individual MP they want to represent them and their constituency, not the leader

This makes the whole thing into a three-stage process, with three different groups of people to try to please.

In stage one, you're trying to win favour from fellow MPs. It's a mysterious, dark world where there are tales of people being pressured into withdrawing or offering incentives to back another candidate. Every time someone is eliminated, their support (and the support of everyone who supported them) is up for grabs. At this stage, Rishi Sunak was a strong favourite. He was clearly well prepared (it was discovered that his campaign website address was registered some months before Boris Johnson's resignation). He was seen by many in the party as being a reliable and experienced leader who would stand up well to opposition parties.

In stage two, things take a very different direction, and Sunak was leapfrogged in the polls by his opponent. Conservative party members are (compared to the rest of the population, at least) older, white, more right-wing and often not shy about it. Liz Truss also faced accusations that she was lining herself up to replace Boris Johnson far in advance of his resignation, with suggestions that she was creating an image and identity very similar to another former Conservative Prime Minister—Margaret Thatcher. This has gone down very well with party members, some of whom view Thatcher with almost deity-like status. Truss' policies on the economy (helping to battle inflation and rising living costs with tax cuts rather than handouts) have worked in her favour here too. It is possible that race may have played a part—although it should be mentioned that Kemi Badenoch (a black woman born in the UK to Nigerian parents) also scored well with the party members earlier in the process.

Stage three happens on September 5, when either Liz Truss or Rishi Sunak will be announced as the next party leader and British Prime Minister. Before the winner has had a chance to assess the Downing Street wallpaper, they will be just weeks away from a brutal rise in the price of domestic gas, which will have a severe financial impact on thousands—if not millions—of people. Inflation and interest rates are likely to rise. So are the strikes over pay by public service workers. Then there is the ongoing war in Ukraine, the settlement with the European Union (which is causing a threat to peace in Northern Ireland), the movement campaigning for Scottish independence and anything else that may raise its head in the next few weeks.

Compared to that, the battle to become leader is going to seem like a breeze...

MONEY IS THE ELEPHANT IN THE POOR MAN'S HUT

PRATIK KANJILAL

Editor of The India Cable

SPEAKEASY

The Liberal India celebrates diversity—geographical, ethnic, cultural, linguistic and political. But we've always been deeply defensive about an unpleasant form of diversity in our society—the gulf between the rich and the poor. Drawing attention to it is treated as defamation of the nation, especially if the attention is international.

The phenomenon dates back at least to Satyajit Ray, who took Indian cinema to Western viewers, and whose early work (Pather Panchali, 1955, Mahanagar, 1963) portrayed poverty and unemployment, rural and urban, with deep compassion. Otherwise, sensible commentators of the Sixties raged that it was poverty porn designed to trash India. Ironically, Pather Panchali was not universally acclaimed in the West. At Cannes, François Truffaut walked out of the screening, complaining that he did not want to see a film about peasants eating with their hands.

India's rich-poor gap has been vast since colonial times and vastly uncomfortable-making for the rich. Following the pandemic, it's positively yawning. The headlines this week celebrate Gautam Adani, now the world's third richest person and the first Asian to find a place on the global victory stand, according to the Bloomberg Billionaires Index and Forbes. But the big story is not that Adani has won the bronze, but that his elevation, while millions fall back into poverty, stretches the distance between the rich and the poor to astronomical scales.

It's not Adani's fault. That's how money works. The Arthashastra says, "Just as elephants are needed to catch elephants, so does one need wealth to capture more wealth" (9.4.27 in LN Rangarajan's translation, Penguin Classics, 1992). Elephantine people—businessmen with deep pockets and proximity to political power—did extraordinarily well during the pandemic, which shook global trade. But their success and its celebration were embarrassing because the majority, who operate with far less capital for small margins or work at suddenly vulnerable jobs, were hurt badly. Lack of state support during the pandemic pushed families into poverty, gutted small and medium-scale businesses which had survived the blow of demonetisation, and employment is now in free fall.

The government's rhetoric on the economy says otherwise, though its earlier reluctance to release employment figures drew suspicion. But on Wednesday, the Economic Advisory Council to the Prime Minister released a report titled 'Competitiveness Roadmap for India@100', which admits to low labour participation and rising inequality. The devil is in the details. The participation of women in the workforce, which has always been low in India, is now abysmal. Besides, unemployment figures show not only a lack of jobs but also fewer people seeking work. While Gen Z in prosperous countries have stopped saving until their economic future looks more certain, poor and lower middle-class Indians, especially women, are opting out of the job market, perceiving it to have no future. Ray's Mahanagar was about a woman who steps out to work because of financial pressures on the family. Today, she would stay home.

> Extreme inequality may be sustainable in welfare economies, where unemployment, disability or disease does not necessarily spell penury. But without a welfare net, people get desperate. Unless something else holds them in check

The intensification of inequality in India has drawn international attention since last year. The 'World Inequality Report 2022', anchored by Thomas Piketty, among others, concluded that the top 1% of Indians own 22% of national income. The figure was 57% for the top 10%. The bottom 50% owns only 13%. The report complained that the release of inadequate inequality data for three years by the government was an impediment.

Oxfam's India Supplement 2022, 'Inequality Kills', highlighted that the incomes of 84% of Indian households had shrunk during the pandemic, but the number of Indian billionaires grew from 102 to 142. It noted that a wealth tax of just 1% on the richest 98 households could fund the government's Ayushman Bharat health insurance scheme for over seven years. The same tax on the richest 10% could fund all state welfare, including education, paid leave, and pensions for all.

This isn't poverty porn. It's insurance for the rich, who need political and social stability—more so than others—to stay afloat. Extreme inequality may be sustainable in welfare economies, where unemployment, disability or disease does not necessarily spell penury. But without a welfare net, people get desperate. Unless something else holds them in check.

The Arthashastra is a meticulous text, laying down the rules for everything that's government, from urban planning to the standardisation of weights and measures (it even corrects monetarily for oil sticking to the interior of a measuring vessel), but it does not highlight inequality.

Perhaps it's because absolute monarchies like the Mauryan Empire deter insurrection—though Louis XVI would have disagreed as he went under the guillotine. Class matters everywhere, and in India, the additional matrix of caste, community and faith keeps people in their place. But the tensile strength of this framework may not be equal to an existential threat, which is what dwindling incomes and no pensions means since home economics is now based almost completely on the money. Would a shakeup benefit the existentially threatened? Not necessarily, but it would certainly benefit those who have elephants, the better to catch other elephants with.

Didi praises RSS

By praising RSS and saying they are "not that bad", Mamata seems to have some tricks up her sleeve. RSS and BJP are two sides of the same coin. Driving a wedge between them by showering the former with praise takes us back to 2003 when she called RSS "patriots"—in response, they called her Durga. But this tactic belies the belief of people that she is a woman of robust consistency. There is nothing consistent in politics; she may even align with the BJP in 2024!

A good leader

Mikhail Gorbachev was the last leader of the Soviet Union and helped facilitate a peaceful end to the Cold War, for which he was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1990. He redefined the Soviet's relations with the West by lifting the Iron Curtain. His passing comes at a time when the democratic values he championed cease to exist in today's Russia.

Tharoor in a fix

Although word is going around that Tharoor may hold the coveted Congress presidential throne, he seems quite reluctant. Perhaps he wants someone from G-23 to assume the post instead. This is amid Tharoor and a few other Congress leaders demanding transparency in electoral rolls ahead of the party president elections. This is a genuine concern, considering that the Gandhi family still rules the roost.

Rest in peace, Mary

It is very sad to hear of Mary Roy's passing. An educator and activist, she fought for the property rights of Syrian Christian women. She is truly an example of boldness and determination. May her soul rest in peace.

Please vote

Ahead of state assembly elections in a couple of states, it is necessary to remind the habitual "non-voters" to exercise their democratic right. There is a sizeable number that votes in exchange for freebies. If the "non-voters", especially the youth, vote, this will uphold the tenets of democracy.

3.8m displaced in India due to bad weather in 2020: UN report

VICTIMS OF NATURE'S FURY

3.8m people were internally displaced in 2020 in India

5m people were displaced in China

1.7 million new displacements noted in US

In 2022, flooding along the Brahmaputra river in the north-eastern Indian state of Assam inundated close to 1,500 villages, affecting nearly 500,000 people

In the coastal districts of Pondicherry and Villupuram, flooding damaged houses and exacerbated sanitation issues, particularly for women and children

In the state of Odisha, multiple cyclones have caused considerable damage and the loss of identity documents

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

CLIMATE change is an area of major concern for India at the forthcoming session of the UN General Assembly. And rightly so, with a UN report suggesting that weather-related disasters internally displaced more than 3.8 million people in the country in 2020.

The United States witnessed a dislocation of 1.7 million while China counted for more than 5 million in the same year. The report, by Ian Fry, UN Special Rapporteur on human rights and climate change, points out that rights of people are being affected or violated outright as a consequence of climate change.

In the Indian context, the report mentions massive floods along the Brahmaputra river which affected five lakh people, multiple cyclones in Odisha, and deaths due to unprecedented heat waves this summer.

External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, will be travelling to New York to attend and address the annual General Assembly session. Climate change is one of the focus areas of India's engagement this year.

Hitting hard on major polluters' lack of commitment, the report says that collectively, the members of the Group of 20 are not on track to achieve their unconditional, nationally-determined contribution commitments, based on pre-Covid-19 projections. "Five members of the Group of 20 — Australia, Brazil, Canada, the Republic of Korea, and the United States — are projected to fall short and therefore require further action. By contrast, the world's 55 most vulnerable economies have lost over half their economic growth potential owing to the impacts of the climate crisis," it said.

In 2019, the world's major emitters of carbon dioxide — China, the United States of America, India, the European Union plus the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the Russian Federation, and Japan — together accounted for 67 per cent of total fossil carbon dioxide emissions. The members of the Group of 20 account for 78 per cent of emissions over the past decade.

Fry's report talks about the need for special funding to handle the financial losses and infrastructural damages. "Despite a unanimous call from the Group of 77 and China at the twenty-sixth session of the Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, held in Glasgow, United Kingdom, for a new funding mechanism for loss and damage, the proposal was rejected by influential developed countries."

"In the end, developing countries were pressured by wealthy nations into settling for a three-year dialogue on a funding arrangement for loss and damage, with no decision-making powers. Effectively, the major emitting countries have abandoned their duty to cooperate in line with the principles of international cooperation," it said.

"The huge human cost of the climate crisis is being ignored. We hear of disaster relief, but the long-term costs are not being addressed. We must provide lasting support for people impacted by climate change," said Fry.

Nitish takes a jibe on Modi over corruption

Bihar CM responds to PM's 'some parties protecting the corrupt' remark

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

'BJP aligning with parties involved in wrongdoings'

Rubbishing Modi's claim that Opposition parties were going into a huddle rattled at the Centre's crackdown on corruption, Kumar also sought to remind the former that in many states the BJP has ended up aligning with those whom it had previously accused of wrongdoings

BIHAR chief minister Nitish Kumar on Friday indirectly targetted Prime Minister Narendra Modi while responding to the latter's allegation of corruption on Opposition parties. On Modi's allegation that some political parties had come out in the open to protect the corrupt, Nitish, without naming the PM, told media persons on Friday, "Why should anybody protect the corrupt? Why is he not speaking about what is happening in other states? We have never compromised over the corrupt for so long in Bihar. They can say whatever they wish to. I don't have to respond."

"When Atal Bihari Vajpayee was in power, I had the opportunity to work with him. He had taken care of everybody. People at the Centre can say anything, I am really not concerned about it," the Chief Minister said, adding that he was primarily focused on the development of Bihar.

Modi had remarked in Kerala the other day that "as action is being taken against the corrupt, a new polarisation of political forces is happening in the country", and "some political parties have come out in the open to put up a combined resistance to protect the corrupt".

"Who is shielding the corrupt? Would anybody ever think of doing so? There are, however, many developments in various states, of people going from here to there, which all know but about which I do not wish to say much," said Kumar. Rubbishing Modi's claim that Opposition parties were going into a huddle rattled at the Centre's crackdown on corruption, Kumar also sought to remind the former that in many states the BJP has ended up aligning with those whom it had previously accused of wrongdoings.

Kumar spoke on corruption on the sidelines of a function where his deputy Tejashwi Yadav was also present and the RJD leader, who finds himself and family members in many legal wrangles, chose to be more upfront.

Nitish asserted that he had been working for the state's progress ever since he was given an opportunity to serve the state. "Hum log nyay ke saath sab ka vikas karna chahte hain aur bina koi bhed bhav ke (We want to provide justice to people and bring about changes in their lives without discrimination)," he told the media after paying tributes to former CM, Daroga Prasad Rai, on the latter's death anniversary.

Deputy chief minister and RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav said, "There are more than 1000 MLAs and over 300 MPs from BJP. No raid has been conducted against any of them during the last eight years. Are all of them clean? And if no raid has been conducted, who is protecting them? Those who are making fake claims of making attempts to eradicate corruption are protecting them."

On the other hand, former deputy chief minister and BJP MP Sushil Kumar Modi took a dig at Nitish for not dismissing RJD minister Sudhakar Singh from the cabinet when his name had figured in the rice scam. Was Nitish avoiding action against Sudhakar as he is the son of Bihar RJD president Jagdanand Singh, he asked.

LOYALTY SHIFT

5 JD-U MLAs defect to join ruling BJP in Manipur

PRASANTA MAJUMDAR @ Guwahati

IN a major political development in Manipur, five of the six Janata Dal (United) MLAs "merged" themselves with the ruling BJP on Friday night.

"The Hon'ble Speaker Manipur Legislative Assembly is pleased to accept the merger of the following Hon'ble Members of Legislature Party of JD(U) to the Legislature Party of BJP in the Manipur Legislative Assembly under the Tenth Schedule of the Constitution of India," Assembly secretary Meghajit Singh said in a bulletin.

The five deserters are Khumukcham Joykisan Singh, Ngursangiur Sanate, Md Achab Uddin, Thangjam Arunkumar and LM Khaute.

After this year's Assembly elections, the JD(U) had submitted a declaration to the governor, pledging its support to the BJP. However, the saffron party had snubbed the Nitish Kumar-led party and formed a coalition government with the regional Naga People's Front.

Even after this, the JD(U) considered itself as a part of the government. What gave it this belief is the seating arrangement in the Assembly. Its MLAs had their seats at the treasury bench.

When Kumar ditched the BJP in Bihar, the Manipur leadership of the JD(U) had more or less decided to "withdraw" the party's support to the BJP-led government. The state leadership was waiting to meet the Bihar CM in a few days before taking this decision.

INDIA NOT IN FAVOUR OF CURBS ON RUSSIA: LAVROV

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

RUSSIAN Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov on Friday reiterated India's stand on the Russian energy purchases saying India doesn't want to join the sanctions against Russia.

"India does not want to join the sanctions. Indian leaders, including my colleague, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, have publicly rejected any attempts to involve them in restrictions on the Russian energy purchases. They have made it clear that they will follow their own interests," said Lavrov while addressing Moscow State Institute of International Relations.

Lavrov went further to state that it is not just common economic interest that binds the two nations but also the historic ties.

"We are satisfied with the Russian-India relations. President Vladimir Putin and Prime Minister Narendra Modi met in 2021 and will have an opportunity to meet during the upcoming events like the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) Summit that will happen this month," he said.

India does not want to join the sanctions. Indian leaders, including my colleague, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, have publicly rejected any attempts to involve them in restrictions on the Russian energy purchases

Sergey Lavrov, Russia Foreign Minister

SCO Summit will happen in Samarkand on September 15 and PM Modi and President Putin will attend the same.

Meanwhile, Jaishankar is expected to speak at the UN General Assembly on September 24 and Lavrov said that he was likely to meet him there.

"India has always been one of our key priorities. Let me remind you that our relations with India are now characterised as the special and privileged strategic partnership," Lavrov added.

Russia's Foreign Minister also spoke about the close cooperation his country has with India in the energy sector.

"Russian companies work in India, Indian companies work with us in Siberia and the Far East. Close and easily confidential military-technical cooperation, including production of modern weapons is being done. We have diversified ties in the agricultural sector, and also working towards green transistion. The Kundankulam Nuclear Power Plant is one of our flagship projects," he added. Meanwhile, Lavrov also criticised the West for forcing others to join the sanctions.

"The West is saying that it must force the entire world to stop cooperating with Russia, to impose sanctions. How can they make such arrogant statements in relations to countries like India, China and Indonesia? It is insulting t hear such demands," he added.

INSIDE PROBE

CVC takes officers to task for passing the buck

SUMIT KUMAR SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Central Vigilance Commission (CVC) has come down heavily on vigilance officers for passing the buck to others when it comes to probing complaints and allegations against "officers on deputation".

The commission found that "some organisations are under the impression that in case the borrowed officer has gone back to his parent organisation then the allegation of misconduct is to be forwarded to the parent organisation for enquiry by the CVO of the parent organisation."

The CVC, strongly making its point, said that in case of receipt of any complaint or allegation of misconduct against an officer borrowed from another organisation (and since repatriated to the parent organisation), the same should be enquired into by the Central Vigilance Officer of the borrowing organisation.

The commission further stated that once the probe is completed then the facts should be brought to the notice of the parent organisation in order to bring clarity.

A senior government official explained that when an officer posted with any ministry or department on deputation gets engaged into some misconduct and thereafter is sent back to the parent organisation, then the vigilance officer of the said the ministry or department will carry out the probe against the errant officer and not the vigilance officer of the parent organisation.

SC lists Swamy plea on 'secular & socialist Constitution'

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday listed a plea by former Rajya Sabha MP Dr Subramanian Swamy seeking to delete the words "socialist" and "secular" in the Preamble of the Constitution with a similar plea that is to come up before CJI UU Lalit on September 23.

The words 'socialist' and 'secular' were inserted in the Preamble of the Constitution under the 42nd Constitutional amendment moved by the Indira Gandhi government in 1976. The amendment had changed the description of India in the Preamble from a "sovereign, democratic republic" to "sovereign, socialist, secular, democratic republic."

The petition where Swamy had argued that it was not possible for the policy makers to vary, alter or repeal the Preamble as it was not equivalent to an ordinary statute was listed before the bench of Justices Indira Banerjee and MM Sundresh.

Considering that a similar plea was pending before CJI's court, the bench in their order said, "Subramanian Swamy, the petitioner appearing in-person, submits that an identical writ petition being W.P.(C) No. 645 of 2022, is pending before the first Bench of this Court. Let this writ petition be tagged with Writ Petition (C) No. 645 of 2022."

Swamy in the petition stated that Preamble not only formed the essential features of the Constitution but also the fundamental conditions based on which various groups and interests adopted the Constitution with a hope to create one unified integrated community.

It was also contended that insertion was against the rights to freedom of religion, concept of judicial review which formed an integral part of the basic structure of the Constitution.

"The edifice of our Constitution is built upon and stands on several props, remove any of them, the Constitution collapses. Lastly, it is submitted that, the Constitution has conferred a limited amending power on the Parliament, the Parliament cannot under the exercise of that limited power enlarge that very power into an absolute power," the petition has stated.

ORDER IN TN JOB SCAM RESERVED

The Supreme Court on Friday reserved order in plea challenging Madras HC's order of quashing criminal proceedings against four persons, including V Senthil Balaji, current Tamil Nadu Minister of Electricity in the 2015 job scam whereby the accused's had taken bribe from job aspirants on false promise of appointment to the Metro Transport Corporation (MTC) in various posts. The order was reserved by the bench of Justices Abdul Nazeer and V Ramasubramanian.

ALLOWS TRANSFER OF CRIMINAL CASE AGAINST UNNAO RAPE SURVIVOR

The Supreme Court on Friday allowed the transfer of a criminal case filed by father of one of the accused men facing against Unnao rape survivor from UP trial court to Delhi. The petition where the victim had also sought for stay on the non-bailable warrants issued by the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Unnao, against her was listed before the bench of Justices Sanjiv Khanna and Dinesh Maheshwari.

SANSKRIT AS NAT'L LANGUAGE: COURT REJECTS PETITION

The Supreme Court on Friday dismissed a petition that sought to declare Sanskrit as the national language. The bench of Justices MR Shah and Krishna Murari stressed on the fact that according national status to a language was a policy decision that would require an amendment to the Constitution.

J&K PANDIT KILLING: 'ASK UNION GOVT FOR SIT PROBE'

The Supreme Court on Friday granted liberty to NGO "We the Citizens" to approach the Union government and UT administration with its pleas seeking probe by SIT into the targeted killings of Kashmiri Pandits and Sikhs in Jammu & Kashmir. "It's purely in the domain of the executive," the SC bench said.

JUNKS SUVENDU PLEA ON TRANSFER OF ELECTION PLEA

The Supreme Court on Friday rejected BJP leader Suvendu Adhikari's plea seeking transfer of the election petition filed by West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee out of the State of West Bengal. The bench opined that it could not allow choice of HCs as that would send a 'wrong' message to the HC.

BJP's OBC outreach for 6 poll-bound states

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

WITH an eye on garnering the support of OBCs in six states where assembly elections will be held over the next one year and the Lok Sabha polls in 2024, the BJP will deliberate on electoral strategies at its two-day National Working Committee (NWC) beginning September 9 at Jodhpur in Rajasthan.

The BJP's national office bearers will hold intensive discussions with the heads of the party's OBC front in these states, including Rajasthan, Karnataka, Chhattisgarh, Himachal Pradesh, Gujarat and Madhya Pradesh, during the Jodhpur conclave. The objective would be to hold elaborate and threadbare discussions on ways to bring the OBCs into the BJP's mainstream politics. This would be the second such meeting after the BJP's National Executive Committee of all party fronts held recently in Patna. Union Home Minister and the BJP's principal election strategist Amit Shah will attend the party's OBC Morcha NWC on September 10. He will also address a separate conference of OBC booth-level committees following the NWC meeting.

Since the Mandal Commission recommendations, OBCs constitute 54% of the Indian population and play a decisive role in elections. Since assuming power at the Centre in 2014, the BJP has inducted 27 ministers belonging to different castes within the OBC category. A day before the NWC kicks off on September 9, all party office bearers and senior leaders associated with the front will meet a cross section of OBCs in different parts of Jodhpur and take stock of the problems they face and invite feedback. BJP OBC Morcha National General Secretary Dr Nikhil Anand said, "the front takes pride that PM Modi has emerged as a champion of OBCs after granting constitutional status to the National Commission for Backward Castes".

Govt to play 'adivasi-moolwasi' card

Likely to bring a bill during 1-day special session of Jharkhand Assembly on September 5

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

AMID political uncertainty in the state, the Jharkhand Mukti Morcha-led ruling coalition is likely to table a bill, defining 'Sthaniya Niti' (domicile policy) in the state on the basis of the 'khatiyan' (land records) of 1932, during the one-day special Assembly session on Sept. 5.

Although no specific reasons have been given for calling the special Assembly session, it is believed that the JMM-Congress-RJD ruling alliance, on the lines of the Delhi government, will seek confidence motion on their own.

The domicile policy has always been controversial ever since Jharkhand was carved out Bihar in 2000. As per the provisions in the domicile policy formulated by the BJP government in 2016, people living in Jharkhand since or before 1985 will be considered as local inhabitants.

But after the JMM-led alliance came to power in 2019, Shibu Soren announced that the 1932 Khatiyan should be made the cut-off date to formulate the domicile policy. The state's tribal population in the state has been demanding 1932 as the cut-off date while taking into account proof of land records. Sources said that during the special Assembly session, the state is likely to clear its stand on the domicile policy being demanded on the basis of 1932 Khatiyan.

Jharkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren in Ranchi on Friday | PTI

"Something special will be done on the special session... When we were in Bihar, we used to have 1932 khatiyan-based domicile policy. After we got separated from Bihar, what wrong we have done that 1932 becomes 1985. We are working on the bill and hope that 'sthaniya' people will not have to wait any longer," said Jagarnath Mahto, a minister in the JMM-Congress-RJD cabinet.

"They (locals) will definitely welcome outsiders as guests. But when it comes to their rights, they will not welcome them," he added.

When asked about the Congress stand on the issue, Mahto said that the ruling alliance is only concerned about the people of Jharkhand. "Those who are opposed to it, we are not concerned about them. Let them oppose it. We will do what is right for the people of this state," said Mahto.

Not only the domicile based on 1932 khatiyan, but discussions over 27 per cent reservation for Other Backward Castes (OBC) and drought are also likely to be taken up during the one-day session.

Keeping in mind his possible disqualification from Assembly membership, CM Hemant Soren has made a slew of announcements such as pension scheme, compensatory leave of 20 days for police personnel for working during government holidays, withdrawal of FIRs against villagers during 'Pathalgadi' movement, increasing financial aid to patients from ₹5 lakh to ₹10 lakh or expanding the number of diseases covered under the scheme from four to 17 last week.

Sukhbir relents, says 2 terms for SAD chief

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE next Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) president would be eligible to hold office for no more than two successive terms of five years each, current party chief Sukhbir Singh Badal announced here on Friday, indicating that he may soon step down from the post in deference to demands among a section of the leadership.

Taking the SAD by surprise, Sukhbir said after completion of an incumbent's two terms, he would have to take a break for a term. Besides, the party will not only adhere to a one-family-one-ticket principle, but district presidents will not be eligible to contest elections and 50 per cent seats would be earmarked for SAD workers below the age of 50.

The changes also include formation of a Parliamentary Board which will examine ways and means to attract the best talent while suggesting the names of the best candidates for the assembly polls.

Announcing these changes aimed at strengthening the party, Sukhbir said the two-term norm "will lead to induction of fresh leaders at the top." He added that henceforth all Sikh SAD office bearers would be "sabat soorat" (those with unshorn hair and donning turbans).

He also announced the formation of an advisory board of learned people from all walks of life to advise the party president on important matters. The changes would also involve tweaking the party's the core committee to include the youth, women and representatives from all sections of society.

Promising that Scheduled Castes and backward classes would get due representation in SAD, Sukhbir said elections to the new structure will be completed by Nov. 30.

Punjab AAP govt in fix over DGP post

The AAP government is in a fix over the top police post in Punjab, as the two-month leave of DGP VK Bhawra ends on Sept. 5. The government is seeking legal options. It has also sent a show-cause notice to Bhawra for alleged lapses during his term. As per sources, government was upset for the way police handled Moosewala's murder and attack on Police Intelligence office at Mohali

First list of candidates after Rahul visit: Cong

A former Congress president, Rahul Gandhi will launch Congress party's campaign for the upcoming Gujarat Assembly elections during his visit to the BJP-ruled state on September 5, Rahul will visit poll-bound Gujarat two days ahead of the launch of the party's "Bharat Jodo Yatra" on September 7 under his leadership. Sources said that during Rahul's visit, an interaction programme will be held with Rahul and booth representatives at the Ahmedabad Riverfront. In the meeting with the state leaders, Rahul will discuss the candidate selection followed by the first meeting of the Congress election committee. A screening committee meeting will also be held on the same day.

Portfolio affair: BJP scrambles to save face

BJP had a couple of rough days after two state ministers were divested of a portfolio each. While Rajendra Trivedi lost the revenue ministry Purnesh Modi no longer held the roads ministry. Thereon, what ensued within the party was a scramble to prevent a wrong impression from getting out. Soon, BJP state chief C R Patil (in pic) was summoned to Delhi. The next day he flew back to Gandhinagar where he called on state in-charge and Union Minister Bhupendra Yadav and CM Bhupendra Patel. With Assembly polls around the corner, the BJP don't want this mess – of dropping portfolios – from painting a bad image with the masses.

Old video haunts Congress leader

In a video that has gone viral on social media, Leader of Opposition in the Gujarat Assembly Sukhram Rathva was seen claiming that he was offered `50 crore and a state cabinet berth if he deserts the Congress and joins the ruling BJP. While the BJP claimed it was the habit of the Congress to blame the ruling party whenever their leaders decide to switch sides to "work for people", Rathva said the video was over five years old. The BJP also said Rathva's claim reflects the growing frustration in the Congress ahead of the polls. However, the Congress legislator does not mention the BJP by name in the video.

6 dead as SUV hits pilgrims on way to Guj temple town

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

SIX pilgrims walking towards the temple town of Ambaji were killed while seven others were critically injured when a car mowed down a group of devotees in Gujarat's Aravalli district early morning on Friday, police said.

Superintendent of Police Vishal Vaghela said, "The group was heading on foot towards Ambaji temple in Banaskantha district when they were hit by a vehicle on the highway near Krishnapur village in Malpur taluka. The group was from Dahod and were going to Ambaji temple for the Bhadarvi Poonam fair."

Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel expressed condolences to the bereaved families. Patel announced ex gratia of ₹4 lakh for each deceased and ₹50,000 for the injured.

Bhadarvi Poonam fair is observed for a week at the Ambaji temple. This year, it will be held during Sept. 5-10. It is expected to be attended by lakhs of devotees, who usually walk through the hilly areas of Banaskantha to reach the temple.

UP pulls up 73 officials for laxity

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

FIVE divisional commissioners, 10 district magistrates and three additional director generals of police are among the 73 officials who have been served show-cause notices by the Uttar Pradesh government for inadequate redressal of public grievances.

The Yogi Adityanath government has served notices to 10 departmental heads, five divisional commissioners, 10 district magistrates, vice-chairmen of five development authorities, five municipal commissioners and 10 tehsildars. Three additional director generals of police, five IGs/DIGs, 10 districts police chiefs, and 10 station house officers have also been questioned about why action should not be taken against them as they have not been able to fulfil their responsibilities with the Jansunvai (public grievance) portal.

Official sources said if the officers concerned are not able to satisfy the government with their reply, strict action would be initiated. The chief minister had sought the list of officers who were not able to effect timely redressal of public grievances received on the Integrated Grievance Redressal System and through the 1076 helpline, sources said. The show-cause notice includes data about grievances received through the CM helpline as well.

OFFICERS SENT NOTICES

- Divisional commissioners of Meerut, Lucknow, Kanpur, Varanasi, Devipattan
- DMs of Jaunpur, Ghazipur, Varanasi, Kannauj, Sonbhadra, Mirzapur, Shravasti, Kasganj, Mathura, Basti

U'khand Dalit killed by upper caste in-laws

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

TEN days after marrying a girl belonging to an upper caste, a Dalit political leader was on Thursday allegedly killed by his in-laws in Almora district of Uttarakhand. The couple had sought police help, expressing danger to his life, but the cops apparently paid no heed.

Jagdish Chandra, a resident of Panuvadhokhan, and Geeta alias Guddi of Bhikiyasain, got married at Gairad temple on Aug. 21. Jagdish was a leader of Uttarakhand Parivartan Party (UPP) and had contested assembly elections twice.

Guddi lived with her stepfather, Joga Singh, and half-brother Govind Singh, who were unhappy with her relationship. They allegedly forced Chandra into a vehicle, and killed him using a hammer-like weapon. The police found Jagdish's blood-soaked body from the vehicle late in the evening.

UPP chief PC Tiwari said Geeta's stepfamily was angry since she married a Dalit.

SSP Pradeep Kumar Rai said, "The three accused, including the mother-in-law of the deceased, Bhavana Devi, have been arrested. The murder weapon is yet to be found."

No mining on sacred hillock, says MP CM

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

MINING will not be allowed at Siddha Pahad "at any cost", Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan said on Friday. Chouhan's announcement came amid a growing controversy following reports of resumption of mining on the sacred hillock, where Lord Ram is believed to have taken the pledge to eliminate demons. The CM's tweets on the issue came after he chaired a review meeting of the mineral resources department.

"The purity of priceless cultural heritage Siddha Pahad will be kept intact. Mining won't be allowed at any cost there. The Satna district administration has been directed in this regard," Chouhan tweeted.

The regional office of the MP State Pollution Control Board had recently issued information about holding a public hearing on Sept. 30 for getting environmental clearance to allow mining.

Siddha Pahad, located on the 84 Kosi Parikrama route of Chitrakoot, is believed to have been formed by the bones of seers who were killed by demons. The Congress had earlier attacked the Chouhan government over the issue. "After playing politics in the name of Lord Ram, the BJP government is now working in a well-planned manner to destroy the remains of the same God. The Congress won't sit silent over the issue, but fight battles from roads to the Vidhan Sabha to prevent destruction of the religiously-important hillock," state Congress president and former MP CM Kamal Nath tweeted on Wednesday.

BJP MLA from Maihar in Satna district in MP, Narayan Tripathi, had also written to Chouhan. "I request you to stop the process of allowing mining on the hillock and also declare the entire religious circuit in Chitrakoot as No Mining Zone. Otherwise, I will protest along with local residents on the day of the public hearing."

Since 1978

Mining was allowed in the area, including the Siddh Pahad, in 1978, with the lease allotted to two firms for 30 years. The lease wasn't renewed when the Uma Bharti-led BJP government attained power in MP in 2003

J&K artisans weave heritage on rugs for new parliament

FAYAZ WANI @ Khanpora (Budgam)

STOOPED over their looms, about 50 master craftsmen in this remote village in central Kashmir's Budgam district are busy creating history. For, once they are finished with their creation – 12 silk-to-silk carpets – the exquisite rugs will adorn the floor of the new Parliament building on Rajpath.

Tahiri Carpets received an order for the thick woven fabric in November 2021, its promoter Qamar Ali Khan said. The carpets, each measuring 8 ft x 11 ft, do not carry contemporary patterns but will reflect a combination of Kashmiri and Indian traditional designs. The 12 carpets have four different designs – which have been incorporated from the traditional Kashmiri Pashmina shawl designs.

The carpets, Khan said, would be arranged in a circular order for the museum floor of the new Parliament building whose construction is likely to be completed by October this year.

The carpets, each measuring 8 ft x 11 ft, do not carry contemporary patterns but will reflect a combination of Kashmiri and Indian traditional designs | EXPRESS

"It is a proud moment for us, for the artisans and the entire village that our artwork would be put on display in India's highest democratic institution," he said.

After receiving the order, Qamar short-listed 50 master artisans of his village to take on the task. The craftsmen have been working eight hours daily since December last year. Their deadline to finish the work, according to Qamar, is September-end.

Manzoor Ahmad, one of the artisans, said "this design was very complex. When we started work on this, we had to concentrate very hard. To weave this design needs mastery over the art".

Ahmed is aware that while he may never be able to see the work of art that will be on display at the new Parliament building, he would be happy that dignitaries visiting the place "would come to know about the artisans, our village and the famed carpets of the Valley".

The weaving work on nine of the carpets has been completed while the remaining three will "hopefully" be done "within a week or so". It took a group of four artisans to finish work on one carpet, which is testimony to the design's complexities and intricacies.

Tahira, a woman artisan, begins work at 7 in the morning and winds up by 7 in the evening. "This is a difficult job that involves using coding. If one of us is lax or slips in concentration, the whole group gets affected. The work has to be undone before weaving again. So we have to put in 110 percent concentration to ensure that quality is not compromised," Tahira said.

MP teen on killing spree took a cue from KGF

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

THIS is definitely not the effect that the makers of Yash-starrer KGF would have wanted the movie to have on its viewers. The Kannada action drama was apparently the inspiration behind the serial murders of four watchmen carried out by a 19-year-old tribal youth in Madhya Pradesh. The accused, identified as Shiv Prasad Dhurve, had earlier worked as a waiter in Pune and Goa.

Dhurve was allegedly also inspired by YouTube videos. Police said he struck at night, when he found soft targets. He was next planning to target police personnel on night duty.

A native of Kesli in Sagar, Dhurve was arrested from Bhopal's Kohe Fiza in the wee hours on Friday, hours after he committed the fourth killing of a chowkidar in Khajuri area. Two cell-phones belonging to the last two targets in Sagar district were seized from him.

CCTV grabs from the murder site in Bhopal show Dhurve battering Sonu Verma, 23, in his sleep with block of marble, outside the marble showroom where he had been working for four months, after his watchman father's death. "The accused has confessed to committing the three killings in Sagar and one in Bhopal," Sagar DSP Tarun Nayak said.

The four murders were committed on five nights. "He had returned to Sagar from Goa (where he worked as a waiter in a hotel) 2-3 months back and was jobless. While working at a hotel in Pune, Shiv Prasad (then aged below 16) was held for attempting the murder of his boss and spent months in jail there before being released on bail," Nayak said.

"Drive to become infamous, loot money and cell-phones from his victims, inspired by the social media, YouTube and the Kannada movie KGF, has emerged as the prime reason. So far his role in the May killing of another chowkidar in Makronia area hasn't been established," a source said.

Court convicts Suu Kyi of vote fraud, adds 3 yrs to 17-yr jail term

BANGKOK

A court in Myanmar on Friday sentenced ousted leader Aung San Suu Kyi to three years' imprisonment with labour after finding her guilty of election fraud, adding more jail time to the 17 years she is already serving for other offenses prosecuted by the junta.

The latest verdict also carries potentially significant political consequences for Suu Kyi's National League for Democracy party by lending support to the government's explicit threats to dissolve it before a new election the military has promised for 2023.

Suu Kyi's party won the the 2020 general election in a landslide victory, but the army seized power the following February and kept her from a second five-year term in office. The army contends it acted because of alleged widespread fraud in the polls though independent election observers did not find any major irregularities. Some critics of Senior General Min Aung Hlaing, who led the takeover and is now Myanmar's top leader, believe he acted because the vote thwarted his own political ambitions. A spokesperson for the Bangkok-based Asian Network for Free Elections said Friday they did not observe any election fraud. PTI

Argentina V-P safe as gun misfires

BUENOS AIRES

A man tried to kill Argentina's politically powerful Vice President Cristina Fernández de Kirchner outside her home, but the handgun misfired, the country's president said.

The man was quickly overpowered by her security officers in the incident on Thursday night, officials said.

President Alberto Fernández, who is not related to the vice president, a former president herself, said the pistol did not discharge when the man tried to fire it.

"A man pointed a firearm at her head and pulled the trigger," the president said in a national broadcast following the incident. He said the firearm was loaded with five bullets but "didn't fire even though the trigger was pulled."

The vice president did not appear to have suffered any injury, and the man was overpowered within seconds as he stood among a crowd of her supporters. Gina De Bai, a witness who was near the vice president during the incident, told The Associated Press she heard "the sound of the trigger being pulled." She said she didn't realize it was a handgun until the man was rushed by security personnel.

Accused of corruption in awarding contracts

Vice-president Cristina Fernández has been on trial on corruption charges. Prosecutors allege she defrauded the state while awarding public works contracts in her political stronghold of Patagonia. They are pushing for a 12-year prison sentence and a lifetime ban from politics

President Fernández called it "the most serious incident since we recovered democracy" in 1983 after a military dictatorship and urged political leaders, and society at large, to repudiate the attempted shooting.

The attack came as the vice president is facing a trial for alleged acts of corruption during her 2007-2015 presidency — charges that she vehemently denies and that have led her supporters to surround her home in the upscale Recoleta neighborhood of Argentina's capital.

Video broadcast on local television channels showed Fernández exiting her vehicle surrounded by supporters when a man is seen extending his hand with what looks like a pistol. The vice president ducks as people around the apparent gunman appear shocked at what is happening.

Unverified video posted on social media shows the pistol almost touched Fernández's face. The alleged gunman was identified as Fernando André Sabag Montiel, a Brazilian citizen, said an official at the Security Ministry, who spoke on condition of anonymity. He does not have a criminal record, the official said.

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken on Friday condemned an assassination bid, calling for a rejection of political violence and "hate." "The United States strongly condemns the assassination attempt on Vice President Cristina Fernandez de Kirchner," Blinken wrote on Twitter. Agencies

G7 to implement price cap on Russian oil

WASHINGTON

G7 industrialised powers on Friday said they would "urgently" move towards the implementation of a price cap on Russian oil imports, in order to stop Moscow from raking in huge profits from soaring energy prices.

Finance ministers from the Group of Seven advanced nations said in a statement they would "urgently work on the finalisation and implementation" of the measure, without specifying the cap level.

"Russia is benefitting economically from the uncertainty on energy markets caused by the war and is making big profits from the export of oil and we want to counter that decisively," German Finance Minister Christian Lindner said in a press conference.

G7 countries wanted to "limit Russia's revenues and reduce the economic damage for our societies", Lindner said. The aim of the price cap on oil exports was to "stop an important source of financing for the war of aggression and contain the rise in global energy prices", he added.

The G7 sought to form a "broad coalition" of support for the oil price cap to "maximise" the effectiveness of the measure, finance ministers said. The initial price cap would be set "at a level based on a range of technical inputs" they said, adding that its effectiveness would be "closely monitored".

G7 leaders agreed in late June to work towards implementing the ceiling on crude sales, to exhaust Moscow's war chest and bring down global energy prices. Ahead of Friday's decision, Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov sounded a clear warning. The adoption of a price cap "will lead to a significant destabilisation of the oil markets," he said. AFP

TCS defers first year hike for lateral hires

Company statement says it always provides increments in line with industry benchmarks

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE country's largest IT services company Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) has recently revised hikes for its employees who have completed one year.

Accordingly, lateral hires with anniversary date of April 1, 2022, or after will not receive a letter or increment on completion of the first year.

In a letter to its employees, which TNIE has seen, TCS said, "There has been a recent revision in TCS policy around the first anniversary... The first increment will be at the subsequent annual increment cycle." This comes at a time when all major IT firms are facing intense margin pressure. Recently Infosys cut 30% of the average variable pay on margin pressure. Wipro too has held back variable pay. However, TCS said it will payout 100% variable pay for its employees.

Nascent Information Technology Employees Senate (NITES) strongly condemned TCS decision to stop increments and appraisals of newly-joined employees for one year.

"The company is unethically revising the policies related to employees remunerations without any consent from labour ministry. At the time of recruitment, the company promises to pay a definite salary to employees but later amend policies without even talking to employees," said Harpeet Singh Saluja, president NITES.

In a statement, TCS said it always had increments in line with industry benchmarks. "Even during the pandemic, we ensured our increment cycles were unaffected. It is incorrect to suggest otherwise. All experienced hires will be given an increase as part of the annual salary appraisal that follows their one-year anniversary," TCS said. A top executive from a staffing firm said many IT firms have overhired and these firms' margins are under pressure so now they are trying to save money as the demand environment doesn't look too good in the coming quarters.

Meanwhile, Xpheno, a staffing firm in its recent report said that the IT services sector had its sharpest YoY drop of 23% in active jobs volume in August 2022 compared to August 2021.

ASIANOMICS

SOUTH KOREA

'INFLATION TO STAY HIGH AT 5-6% LEVEL FOR SOME TIME'

South Korea's main inflation rate slowed in August for the first time in seven months and came in below forecasts, but details of the price data released on Friday reinforced views inflation would stay elevated for a while. The Statistics Korea data showed the consumer price index (CPI) rose 5.7% in August from the same month a year ago after a 6.3% gain in July, a 24-year high. The softening in annual inflation was mostly due to a plunge in global crude prices as the data showed prices of oil products tumbling 10.0% in August from July. The weaker oil prices knocked 0.57 percentage points off the month-on-month inflation rate, resulting in a 0.1% retreat in headline CPI, the first decline since November 2020. Rhee Chang-yong, governor of the Bank of Korea, has said his bank would try not to raise interest rates by a bigger margin than the usual 25 basis points when it needs to tighten monetary policy again. Lee Hwan-seok, a deputy governor of the central bank, said at a meeting on Friday that the fall in the inflation rate was in line with the central bank's expectations and that inflation would stay high at 5-6% levels for some time.

INDONESIA

INFLATION EASES IN AUGUST

Indonesia's inflation rate eased more than expected in August, official data showed on Thursday, but economists said the rate is set to accelerate and more interest rate increases are likely amid expectation of a fuel price hike. President Joko Widodo has been considering raising subsidised fuel prices to curb ballooning energy subsidies amid high global oil prices and a depreciating rupiah. A drop in some food prices saw Indonesia's inflation ease to 4.69% in August from 4.94% a month prior, data by Statistics Indonesia showed. A Reuters poll had expected a rate of 4.90% in August. But the annual core inflation rate, which excludes government-controlled prices and volatile food prices, accelerated to 3.04% in August, the highest since Nov. 2019, from 2.86% in July. The August rate was roughly in line with the 3% forecast in the poll. Bank Indonesia (BI) is targeting inflation at between 2% to 4% for 2022 and 2023, a range Governor Perry Warjiyo has said was likely to be exceeded this and next year.

TAIWAN

AUGUST EXPORTS SEEN UP FOR 26TH STRAIGHT MONTH

Taiwan's exports likely rose for the 26th straight month in August although at a slower pace than in July, amid fears of a global recession, uncertainties due to the Ukraine conflict, and COVID-19 flare-ups in China, according to a Reuters poll. Taiwan, a global hub for chip production and a key supplier to Apple Inc, is one of Asia's leading exporters of technology goods. The trade data is seen as an important gauge of world demand for tech gadgets. Exports last month were estimated to have risen 9.5% from a year earlier, a Reuters poll of 13 analysts showed on Friday, slower than the 14.2% jump in July. The export forecasts all predicted increases but ranged widely between 3% and 12.06%, reflecting uncertainties over the global economy, supply chain disruptions due to pandemic lockdowns in China, and Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Taiwan's Finance Ministry predicted August exports would increase by 8% to 12% from a year earlier. The inflation data will be released on Tuesday, followed by trade data on Wednesday.

Loan apps can't access users' mobile data: RBI guidelines

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Friday said that regulated entities (REs) should ensure that all loan servicing, repayment are executed by the borrower directly and not made to a third-party account.

In its guidelines on digital lending, the central bank said any collection of data by DLAs(digital lending apps) should be need-based and executed with prior consent of the borrower. Also, REs should ensure that DLAs desist from assessing mobile phone resources such as contact list and call logos. Last month, the RBI came up with recommendations of the working group on digital lending. It has also given time to regulated entities till November 30 to implement its new digital lending guidelines.

RBI's guidelines are applicable to all commercial banks, non-banking financial companies (including housing finance companies) and primary (urban) co-operative banks, among others.

According to the guidelines, the penal interest or charges levied on the borrowers should be based on the outstanding amount of the loan. Also, the rate of such penal charges should be disclosed on an annualised basis to the borrower in the Key Fact Statement (KFS).

REs should also communicate to the borrower about details of the recovery agent at the time of sanctioning of the loan and also at the time of passing on the recovery responsibilities to a lending service provider.

There should not be any automatic increase in credit limit unless explicit consent of the borrower is taken on record for each such increase. A borrower should be given an explicit option to exit digital loan by paying the principal and the proportionate APR (annual percentage rate) without any penalty during this period.

The cooling off period can be determined by the board of the regulated entities, said the RBI.

GMR Group exits Cebu international airport in Philippines for ₹1,330 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AIRPORT operator GMR Group on Friday said it will divest its entire 40% stake in Cebu international airport in the Philippines for an upfront payment of ₹1,330 crore as well as earnouts to be received over a period of over four years.

Separately, the Board of GMR Infrastructure approved raising funds of up to ₹6,000 crore via foreign currency convertible bonds or any other security. Another GMR group company, GMR Power and Urban Infra, on Thursday had approved raising funds of up to ₹3,000 crore.

The funds will be used for infrastructure projects undertaken by the group. Group firm GMR Airports is developing airport cities on commercial land available around its airports in Delhi, Hyderabad, and Goa. Coming to its stake sale in Cebu Airport, GMR Airports International BV (GAIBV), a step-down subsidiary of GMR Infrastructure (and direct subsidiary of GAL) has entered into agreements with Aboitiz InfraCapital (AIC), for AIC to acquire shares in GMR-Megawide Cebu Airport Corporation (GMCAC). GMCAC, a joint venture between GAIBV and Megawide Construction Corporation (MCC), is a developer and operator of the Mactan Cebu International Airport (MCIA). As per a regulatory filing, the stake is being divested as part of the focus on deleveraging GMR Airports and churning assets for higher returns on investment.

The deal details

The transaction will be undertaken at an enterprise value of PhP49.7 billion (₹7,050 crore) and GAIBV will receive an upfront amount of ₹1,330 crore in lieu of the shares being transferred, and notes being issued

"The transaction will be undertaken at an enterprise value of PhP49.7 billion (₹7,050 crore) and GAIBV will get an upfront amount of ₹13.3 crore in lieu of the shares being transferred, and notes being issued," the GMR filing said. PhP refers to Philippine Pesos. "We would continue to operate as the technical services provider to GMCAC till December 2026, (and) will be entitled to additional deferred consideration based on the subsequent performance of GMCAC for the same period."

SpiceJet may get ₹225 crore under ECLGS scheme

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

SPICEJET is likely to receive nearly ₹225 crore next week as part of the central government' Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) scheme, said sources privy to the development.

The relief comes as the airline is seeking multiple options to generate cash amid mounting losses, spiraling dues and rising debt level. The funds, according to sources, will primarily be used to clear statutory dues and pay aircraft lessors.

SpiceJet, which reported ₹1,725 crore loss in FY22 and ₹789 crore in Q1FY23, earlier this week said that it will shortly be engaging with investment bankers for a potential raise of up to $200 million.

Earlier this week, SpiceJet Chairman Ajay Singh had said the airline is looking to raise ₹2,000 crore through various means, including a stake sale. Currently, Singh holds about 60% of stocks in the loss-making airline, of which 44.24% is pledged with lenders.

Under the ECLGS scheme, announced in May 2020 in the wake of the covid-19 pandemic to help various sectors, entities get credit at a concessional rate of 7%.

On August 17, the Union Cabinet approved the enhancement in the limit of ECLGS by ₹50,000 crore to ₹5 lakh crore. The additional amount is being earmarked exclusively for enterprises in hospitality and related sectors.

Fundraising is very crucial to the airline as analysts and auditors have time and again raised their doubt over its ability to remain a going concern.

SpiceJet is also likely to announce the appointment of new Chief Financial Officer next week after it informed Sanjeev Taneja has resigned.

Why Google phones failed to make inroads into India

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

AFTER a gap of two years, US tech giant Google has introduced its mid-range Pixel 6A smartphone (priced at ₹43,999) in the Indian market.

The last time Google had released its smartphone, Google Pixel 4A, in India was in October 2020. The company has not been able to make inroads into the Indian market, dominated by Chinese mobile phone manufacturers for quite some time. Google has less than 1% market share in the Indian premium smartphone segment.

It is believed that Google failed to sell its pixel devices in India due to its Soli Radar chip on the front, which utilised the 60GHz frequency band banned for commercial use in India. However, Google later on scrapped that feature.

But there are more reasons for Google's failure to attract Indian customers. "Google has been a non-serious brand in terms of smartphones in India. It has issues all across. Just doing a good product isn't enough. They need to scale up distribution, marketing and other aspects, which make up the entire offering and are responsible for sales. Even their after-sales are thin," said Faisal Kawoosa, founder and chief analyst at Techarc.

Price has also been a big factor for Google phones limited presence in India. Most of its phones are priced in the range of ₹40,000 and above. Indian consumers being price sensitive find this pricing a little too high. Tarun Pathak, research director, Counterpoint Research, said Google Pixel is a great smartphone, but the company is facing multiple issues like channel strategy and positioning of the phone. "Additionally, manufacturing in India will help to reduce the prices and be more competitive," said Pathak. Prabhu Ram, head of industry intelligence at CMR, is of the view that Pixel has enjoyed some limited market share among a section of tech savvy consumers, but mainstream smartphone buyers remain oblivious to it. Therefore, to make a sustainable presence in the market, Google will have to put real efforts in terms of local manufacturing, its pricing and channel strategies, along with strong marketing initiatives to back it up, he added.

In the market where Samsung and Apple are enjoying strong growth momentum and the market dynamics are rapidly evolving, there are still avenues for Google to grow. "However, half-baked measures will not suffice," said Ram.

Urban unemployment rises to 9.57% in Aug, shows CMIE data

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

THE joblessness rate in India has hit a one-year high of 8.3% in August, according to data from the Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy (CMIE).

While both rural and urban unemployment increased significantly this month, the overall rise is driven by joblessness in urban areas. The urban unemployment touched 9.57% in August as against 8.21% the previous month. At the same time, rural unemployment surged to 7.68% from 6.14% in July. This comes even as government data showed a contrary scenario in terms of employment in the country. As per the Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS) report released on Wednesday, the unemployment rate has dropped from 12.6% in June quarter last year to 7.6% in the same quarter this year. "While male unemployment dropped to 7.1%, from 7.7% in the last quarter, female unemployment was at 9.5%, as against 10.1%," the report showed. CMIE data, however, shows unemployment at elevated levels of above 7% in June quarter this year, which have continued in August. Employment conditions are adverse for the youth, Mahesh Vyas, MD and CEO, CMIE, has noted in his analysis earlier this week. "The 15-24 years age group has a relatively low labour participation rate (LPR). Between 2016-17 and 2021-22, while the average was 42.6%, the LPR for the youth was much lower at 22.7%. Yet, the youth face a much higher unemployment rate. While the overall unemployment rate averaged at 7%, the youth experienced an unemployment rate of over 34%," he said.

The highest unemployment rate during August, in terms of states, was witnessed in Haryana at 37.3% followed by Jammu and Kashmir at 32.8%, Rajasthan at 31.4%, Jharkhand at 17.3% and Tripura at 16.3%.

As per the CMIE data, the lowest unemployment rate was seen in Chhattisgarh at 0.4% followed by Meghalaya at 2%, Maharashtra at 2.2% and Gujarat and Odisha at 2.6%.

NTPC registers 62% growth in coal production from captive mines

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

NTPC Ltd, India's largest integrated energy producer, reported a growth of 62% in coal production from its captive mines this fiscal.

It has produced 7.36 million tonnes (MT) of coal, as per data available on August 31, registering a robust growth of 62% compared to 4.55 MT achieved during the same period last year. "With meticulous planning, resource mobilisation and regular monitoring, NTPC has achieved substantial growth even during the monsoon period so far and is hopeful of sustaining the growth that will help in ensuring uninterrupted, reliable and affordable power generation," said NTPC in a statement.

It has dispatched 7.52 MT of coal from its captive mines as compared to 5.47 MT dispatched during the same period last year, registering a growth of 37%. "NTPC has taken various steps to augment the production from its mines. The engagement of high-capacity dumpers as well, as an increase in the existing fleet size of excavators, has allowed the operational mines to increase their production," added the company.

Recently, NTPC has received shareholders' approval to raise up to ₹12,000 crore through issuance of non-convertible debentures on private placement basis. As per the reports, India's largest power generating company received interest from a dozen companies including Canada Pension Plan Investment Board (CPPIB), Brookfield, Abu Dhabi's TAQA and National Investment and Infrastructure Fund (NIIF).

Prosecution allowed for over ₹5 cr GST evasion

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

IN a bid to give clear guidance to the tax officers, the GST investigation wing on Friday issued a detailed advisory on launching prosecution under the central goods and services Act, 2017.

The guidelines stated that the nature of evidence collected against the person involved should be assessed carefully as sanction of prosecution has serious repercussions. Also the prosecution should normally be launched where the amount of tax evasion or misuse of ITC, or fraudulently obtained refund in relation to specified offences is more than ₹5 crore. However, the limit of ₹5 crore as prescribed under Section 132 of the CGST Act should not be applicable in the cases of habitual evaders and arrest matters. "Decision should be taken on case-to-case basis considering various factors such as nature and gravity of offence, quantum of tax evaded or input tax credit (ITC) wrongly availed, or refund wrongly taken and the nature as well as quality of evidence collected," the Central Board of Indirect Taxes & Customs said. As per the guidelines, in the case of public limited companies, prosecution should not be launched indiscriminately against all the directors of the company but should be restricted to only persons who oversaw day-to-day operations of the company and have taken active part in committing the tax evasion etc. or had connived with it.

Rajat Mohan, partner, AMRG & Associates, said the CBIC made a conscious effort to prescribe detailed guidelines on prosecution, enabling tax officers to move in the right direction and alleviate harassment endured by the innocent taxpayers for long. Anita Rastogi, GST and indirect tax partner, PwC, said, "Investigations have been a focus area of government and therefore it becomes important to provide clear instructions to officers. Uniform procedures should be followed across India. It helps the taxpayer to be aware of the methodology being adopted by the government officials. The key to this is that the officers follow the guidance and no variance is created or else the objective of instructions gets defeated".

The other big news is that Jason Roy has been dropped from the squad but all-rounder Chris Woakes and Mark Wood have been recalled.

AIFF POLLS: CHAUBEY 33, BHUTIA 1

Favourite makes it a no contest at the elections, says there will be a discussion with FIFA chief about way forward

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

FINALLY, the All India Football Federation (AIFF) on Friday got a former player as its president for the first time in its 85-year history as Kalyan Chaubey registered a comprehensive 33-1 win over his more famed rival Bhaichung Bhutia in the election for the top post.

The contest, as expected, turned out to be a lopsided affair with the former India skipper Bhutia, 45, not having many supporters in the 34-member voters' list made up of state association representatives. Unlike Bhutia, Chaubey, also 45, did not make an appearance for the senior India team despite being part of the squad. He, however, played as a goalkeeper for India's legendary clubs — Mohun Bagan and East Bengal. Interestingly, the duo was teammates during their playing days with East Bengal.

Speaking soon after being elected AIFF president, Chaubey said he will engage with all stakeholders to take Indian football forward. "I want to involve all eminent footballers to work on the different challenges Indian football is facing today, and to realise the dreams of the respective states. After 100 days, we plan to unveil the roadmap for Indian football and take the next step," he said.

In addition, Karnataka Football Association president NA Haris won the election for vice president post against Rajasthan's Manvendra Singh with 29 votes against five, while Kipa Ajay of Arunachal Pradesh won against Andhra Pradesh's Gopalkrishna Kosaraju, to be elected treasurer, with 32 votes against one with one vote being invalid. Furthermore, 14 members of the Executive Committee were elected unopposed.

The elections were conducted under returning officer Umesh Sinha, and assistant returning officer Tapas Bhattacharya in front of FIFA observer Rolf Tanner, and AFC observer Sonam Jigmi. FIFA RDO Prince Rufus was also present on the occasion. The newly-elected AIFF chief also informed that he had received a call from the FIFA president Gianni Infantino. "I received a call from the FIFA president. He wanted to meet me in Zurich or Doha later this year. I briefed him the importance of the next few days. We have the FIFA U-17 Women's World Cup next month, and told him that we need to discuss amongst ourselves how we plan to take things forward. We will then present our plans to him in detail."

"We plan to reach out to various schools to extend our outreach at the grassroot level. Hence, we will also have detailed discussions with Anurag Thakur (sports minister), Dharmendra Pradhan, and the HRD Ministry," he said. He also spoke about Bhutia. "Bhaichung's contribution to Indian Football can never be forgotten. I will definitely welcome his views, and take everyone's views into consideration."

In a new twist to the election saga, Manvendra Singh, also a Congress leader, alleged that Union minister Kiren Rijiu "influenced" the outcome of the All India Football Federation (AIFF) elections. According to reports, he said that Rijiju asked the states to not vote for Bhutia. However, Chaubey though said Rijiju visited the hotel where the state unit officials were staying but denied he asked them to not vote for Bhutia. "That's a lie," he said.

The election had strong political undertones too. If Chaubey is a BJP leader from West Bengal, Bhutia was a TMC leader. Question naturally veered towards outside influence. But Chaubey dismissed it saying, "Can you name a federation in which the state or central government or a politician is not part of it?"

ELECTED MEMBERS

President: Kalyan Chaubey Vice president: NA Haris Treasurer: Kipa Ajay

Executive committee members: GP Palguna, Avijit Paul, Anilkumar P, Valanka Alemao, Maloji Raje Chhatrapati, Menla Ethenpa, Mohan Lal, Arif Ali, K Neibou Sekhose, Lalnghinglova Hmar, Deepak Sharma, Vijay Bali, Syed Imtiaz Husain, Syed Hasnain Ali Naqvi.

Co-opted eminent former players: Bhaichung Bhutia, IM Vijayan, Shabbir Ali, Climax Lawrence, Pinky Bompal Magar, Thongam Tababi Devi.

Returning Vijay looks to regain London form ahead of Worlds test

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

IT'S another remarkable story of a comeback. He doesn't have a full-time coach to guide him. No regular practice in shooting ranges because of his job. There had been a gap of more than four years before he tried to get back into the India team. For 2012 London Olympic silver medallist, Vijay Kumar, it's just a small target before aiming for bigger challenges. For now, he is delighted to be named in the shooting team for the World Championships in Cairo to be held in October 12-25.

The nationals last year was his first major competition where Vijay, who competes in 25m rapid fire pistol, tried to test his skill. And he had been consistent throughout the year to finish in the selections bracket of the National Rifle Association of India (NRAI), who announced a 48-member team on Friday based on performances during multiple trials/domestic/international competitions.

Vijay Kumar

Since he joined the Himachal Pradesh police in 2017, he had to leave practice and concentrate on training. Interestingly, his last major competition in 2018 too, happened to be the World Championships.

Working as a Deputy Superintendent of Police in Himachal Pradesh Police, he hardly had time for practice after joining duty. Training and then postings later on kept him away from shooting ranges. "Difficult to find time while training," he told this newspaper on Friday. "I don't have a coach and I have to go to Chandigarh to train in a 25m range. I have to take permission from the department and arrange for the range. No problem. It's all part of life."

It all started last during the National Shooting Championships in November-December, more than four years in 'exile'. "I took a week's permission to train and I competed at the nationals," said Vijay.

"My performance was good and during the trials, too, I maintained my form." With so much competition, he knew it would not be easy to get back into the national team. "Every year there is a new shooter who would do well. I don't even have a coach. I train on my own with whatever experience I have. I have attended those 15-day national camps in June and July where I practiced with coaches, both foreign and Indian."

Vijay pointed out that during his practice, when not in national camp, would be quite random. "We don't find ranges everywhere and also no coach with me. I ask my friends to help me out but when in national camp, I get the guidance," he said. Vijay is right now posted at an HP Police battalion near Anandpur Sahib and has to go to Chandigarh for practice.

The 35-year-old is taking one competition at a time. For him there are areas where he needs rapid improvement. "I know I have to improve to get back to my London Olympic form. I am working hard and preparing for the World Championships as I have to do well for my country." The World Championships will offer quotas for the 2024 Paris Olympics and Vijay said his aim would be to do well. During the break too, Vijay entertained thoughts of a comeback. "I am a very positive person and I always thought I can get back to the team," he said. With Paris Olympic in sight, Vijay aims for bigger targets. "But one challenge at a time," he said.

Spaniard Rafael Nadal celebrates after defeating Fabio Fognini of Italy in the second round of the US Open on Thursday. He will face Richard Gasquet next | AP

Nadal survives bizarre injury

AFP @New York

RAFAEL Nadal overcame a freak injury scare when he accidentally hit himself with his own racquet to reach the US Open third round on Thursday.

The Spaniard defeated Italy's Fabio Fognini 2-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1 but only after suffering a bizarre self-inflicted injury when leading 3-0 in the fourth set.

The four-time champion, and holder of a men's record 22 Grand Slam titles, was hurt when his racquet bounced back off the court as he stretched for a ball and hit him squarely on the nose.

The 36-year-old Australian and French Open champion dropped his racquet to the Arthur Ashe Stadium floor and sprinted to the sidelines where he lay on his back with his nose bloodied.

He required a medical timeout to have the wound tended before resuming the match with a bandage across the bridge of his nose.

Nadal goes on to face France's Richard Gasquet against whom he boasts a 17-0 career record after coming through his late night scrap which saw a total of 15 breaks of serve and 97 unforced errors.

It was the second successive match in which Nadal had dropped the first set after suffering the same fate in his opener against Australian wildcard Rinky Hijikata.

OTHER RESULTS (SELECT, SECOND RD) THURSDAY

Men: Carlos Alcaraz bt Federico Coria 6-2, 6-1, 7-5, Rafael Nadal bt Fabio Fognini 2-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1, Andrey Rublev bt Kwon Soon-woo 6-3, 6-0, 6-4. Women: Iga Swiatek bt Sloane Stephens 6-3, 6-2, Aryna Sabalenka bt Kaia Kanepi 2-6, 7-6 (8), 6-4, Petra Martic bt Paula Badosa 6-7 (5), 6-1, 6-2. Men's doubles (featuring Indians): Andrea Vavassori and Lorenzo Sonego bt Bopanna/Matwe Middelkoop 7-6 (2), 6-2 Simone Bolelli /Fabio Fognini bt Ramkumar/ Nikola Cacic 6-4, 6-4. Mixed doubles: Max Purcell/ Gabriela Dabrowski bt Bopanna/ Yang Zhaoxuan 7-5, 7-5.

Bopanna, Ramkumar exit

Rohan Bopanna and Ramkumar Ramanathan made early exits from their respective events at the US Open. While Bopanna lost both his opening round matches in the men's doubles and mixed doubles events, Ramkumar was shown the door in the opening round of men's doubles.

ASIA CUP

From shadows to the light, the Bhuvi story

GOMESH S @Chennai

IT'S relatively simple to describe Bhuvneshwar Kumar's bowling when he is at his best. It's just like his action — smooth, concise, with very little complications. There's swing early on, wickets in the powerplay, the occasional knuckle ball and a sharp bouncer mixed in. At the death, it's short-of-length slower balls and wide yorkers.

If Jasprit Bumrah was doing things very few could at one end, Bhuvneshwar had been holding court at the other, with wickets while being economical. Thursday in Dubai was one such day against Hong Kong. While the other two pacers went for over 11 runs per over, the 32-year-old finished his three overs for just 1/15.

Now, it's not a new trend that he's remained economical while other pacers go for runs. It's happened often in high-scoring games through the course of his career — whether it's the IPL game where Chris Gayle scored 175 early in his career or as late as the T20I against New Zealand in Jaipur last year.

But like every other fast bowler, he has had his share of struggles. Between 2019 and 2021, he seemed like a shadow of himself. He had slowed down, the new ball seldom swung, the economy was going up. But most importantly, his USP — the powerplay breakthroughs — was not there. In this period, he took just nine wickets in 23 T20s with the new ball. And, with Deepak Chahar breaking in and doing what he was doing, it seemed like Bhuvneshwar might not be India's first-choice new-ball T20I bowler. However, in the last six months, he has turned it around. It started in the 2022 IPL. With every game, a fitter Bhuvneshwar was picking up pace and swing. The accuracy was never an issue but without the other two, it wasn't making much of a difference. By the end of the IPL, it seemed like he was ready.

In the home series against South Africa, he was swinging the ball and taking wickets in the powerplay while not going for much. In the 15 games since, he has taken 20 wickets at an economy of 6.48. And it seems like he isn't looking back. There's a T20 World Cup coming and he has a competitor in Chahar as well. But Bhuvneshwar, at the moment, seems to be in the zone which is simple, straightforward and effective just like his bowling.

Pakistan in Super 4S

Having beaten Hong Kong by 155 runs after posting 193/2 on Friday, Pakistan have qualified for the Super 4S. Meanwhile, Axar Patel has replaced Ravindra Jadeja in the India squad as the latter is ruled out of Asia Cup due to knee injury.

Carter puts visitors in command against India A

BENGALURU: Joe Carter made a memorable 197 to put New Zealand A in a strong position against India A on day two of the first unofficial Test on Friday. Carter, who resumed the day on 73, went on to bat for 305 balls helping New Zealand A post 400 in their first innings. They had resumed the day at 153 for five. In response, India A were 156 for one in 37 overs. Brief Scores: New Zealand A 400 in 110.5 ovs (Carter 197; Mukesh 5/86) vs India A 156/1 in 37 ovs (Easwaran 87 n.o).

Saurabh misses Cairo flight after subdued run

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

THOSE who followed Saurabh Chaudhary's performances since his debut in the last few years would know he had been nothing but sensational, winning medals for fun against some of the elites in the sport.

Going into the Tokyo Olympics, the pistol shooter had entered the marquee event as the country's brightest hope. But he had narrowly missed out. Then, he was the only Indian shooter to advance to a final.

How things can change so fast. Now, Saurabh finds himself in the shadows. A little over 12 months after that narrow miss, Saurabh's world has turned upside down. He's not part of the upcoming World Championships in Cairo, Egypt. That's the same venue where he had captured gold during the first ISSF World Cup of 2022. But despite missing the Cairo flight, coach Samaresh Jung said that he remains positive. "He's (Saurabh) not at all discouraged. This happens. It is part of the game. He has faced setbacks in the past too," Samaresh told this newspaper.

As reported by this daily in June, this exclusion is no surprise. Following that aforementioned gold, Saurabh struggled to find his usual calmness at the range. A modest show during the selection trials 1 and 2 followed. Things went south after he put up a disastrous show during the third and fourth trials. While some of the top performers had scores in the 580s, Saurabh had 574 during the selection trial 3. In the fourth, he shot just 569 while the top-three, just for context, had 589, 583 and 582. That meant the toppers, overall, got the chance to take part in a World Cup, thereby getting a chance to extend their lead.

Saurabh Chaudhary

It was the same story during the Kumar Surendra Singh Memorial Shooting, where Shiva Narwal, the man in form and who's set for the World Championships, dominated.

Saurabh's performance during the selection trials 5 and 6 was also modest. After the completion of those two trials, Saurabh was placed a lowly-29-th in the list, well outside contention to become part of the team to lead a major competition. "It (run) just happened. But this is just the beginning of the Olympic cycle. He is unlucky to have missed out but the good thing is that there are more events next year. The Asian Games was also postponed. He has to work on the basics. He needs to be patient. Hopefully, everything will fall in line," Samaresh noted.

Saurabh has been a regular since 2018, climbing the podium on many occasions. Prior to the build-up of the Tokyo Olympics, the shooters had intense build-up. Continuous grind could have taken a toll on the mind of the 20-year-old.

Apart from Saurabh, some of the other big names who missed out on the World Championships are Apurvi Chandela (rifle), Rahi Sarnobat and Abhishek Verma. Manu Bhaker, who competed in 10m air pistol and 25m sports pistol (individual) during the Tokyo Olympics, is only part of the latter this time.

Premier League

TRANSFER BONANZA

The Premier League emerged as the alpha in terms of spending power, once again, in the summer transfer window. A look at some talking points...

BARCELONA'S ECONOMIC LEVERS

The Catalan giants began the window in some danger of declaring bankruptcy. They have ended it as one of the biggest spenders, signing a clutch of stars led by Robert Lewandowski & Raphinha. They have managed to do it thanks to pledging the family silver for the next few generations.

ENGLAND, ROLLING IN THE MONEY

Thanks to a TV deal, led by an unprecedented international growth, the Premier League continued its spending march across the world. The league outspent the La Liga, Bundesliga, Serie A and Ligue Un. What's more, this trend is set to continue for the forseeable future.

BILLIONAIRES USING CLUBS

While Roman Abramovich sold Chelsea, the outsize influence of billionaires and/or states in football clubs only increased. Chelsea's new owner, Todd Boehly, sanctioned the spending splurge worth north of 200 million pounds. Elsewhere, Qatar (PSG), UAE (Manchester City), Saudi Arabia (Newcastle) made big statement signings.

REAL CONTINUE TO BET ON YOUTH

There was a time when Madrid were keen on breaking on all sorts of transfer records. These days, they are showing an expertise in signing young players while moving on players in the September of their careers. Selling Casemiro (51 million pounds) and buying 22-year-old Aurelian Tchouameni for 85 million pounds is what they do these days.

TOP FIVE SIGNINGS (IN TERMS OF PRICE, ALL VALUES IN POUNDS)

AURELIAN TCHOUAMENI
85.3 MILLION MONACO TO REAL

ANTONY
82MN AJAX TO MANUNITED

WESLEY FOFANA
75 MN LEICESTER TO CHELSEA

DARWIN NUNEZ
64.3 MN, BENFICA TO LIVERPOOL

MATTHIJS DE LIGT
59.6 MN JUVENTUS TO BAYERN

1.9 BN Money spent by PL clubs, a new record. It was a figure that exceeded money spent by Bundesliga, Serie A and La Liga combined.

255 MN Money spent by Chelsea, a new record.

21 Nottingham Forest, promoted to the PL for the first time this century, bought 21 players.

Alumni from the 1972 and 1997 batches from one of the city's oldest educational institutions, St Joseph's Boys' High School, will be celebrating their 50th and 25th-year reunions this weekend

BACK TO SCHOOL

TUNIR BISWAS

THE boys are coming home this weekend. The home in question: St. Joseph's Boys' High School, one of Bengaluru's oldest educational institutions. The school is hosting the 50th and 25th-year reunions of the 1972 and 1997 batches respectively. The batches of 1995 and 1996 have also been invited as they had missed out on their 25th-year reunions due to COVID. The school has been alma mater to some of the stalwarts like cricketer Rahul Dravid, the coach of Indian cricket team, Padma Bhushan awardee Devdutt Padikkal, cartoonist Mario Miranda to name a few.

"So there are multiple activities planned out this weekend. We start off tonight with the teachers' felicitation event where we thank our educators for looking after us and getting us through our early years. We will be honouring them and inviting them over for dinner at The Bangalore Club," says Zoheb Mashood, a deputy general manager at the Prestige Group who is part of the 1997 batch.

Among the many events planned this weekend, which include marching on annual sports day, a mass ceremony in the school Chapel and paying respect to the alumni who have given their lives fighting for the country, there is also the annual Blue and White Ball on September 3. The ball is where all the batches are reuniting this weekend. However, since the ball is an annual event organised by the Old Boys Association (OBA), the school's alumni network, it is not just restricted to just these four batches, but anyone from a graduated batch can attend the evening. "We're greatly looking forward to this weekend. We've been planning this for a good six months now. Alumni from all over the world are coming together to be part of this celebration," says Rahul Tadimalla, an investment banker who is also a part of the 1997 batch.

Jimmy Anklesaria

The alumni have also raised funds to donate to the school as a way of giving back to the institution. Raoul Chittiapa, the owner of a coffee export company and alumnus of the 1997 batch, feels the school canteen is the place that will kick in most of the nostalgia. "The canteen was where we caused most of the havoc and I share a lot of my cherished memories from there. I live in this city itself and, over the years, the school has changed since we left it, but the change has been for the better," says Chittiapa.

Apart from the 1995, 96 and 97 batches, the 1972 batch will also gather for their 50th reunion this weekend. "From a batch of about 100, around 45-50 of us are coming for the festivities this weekend. Of course, since it's our 50th year, many of our peers are unfortunately no more. However, we're very excited about the reunion," says entrepreneur-author-philanthropist Jimmy Anklesaria, an alumnus of the 1972 batch, who lives in California and has travelled to Bengaluru for this event. He further shares that they are going to host another small reunion, of sorts, for their friends and batchmates in the US and Canada at the end of October in Phoenix, Arizona. "A 50th-year reunion doesn't come too often so I had to come down here. Around 15 people from our batch reside in the US and only about five of us were able to make it here. We're quite a close-knit group and it's amazing how, even 50 years later, we still talk like we graduated only yesterday," he adds.

Infiflex, a bootstrapped company, reveals its success secret

Since inception, Infiflex, a bootstrapped business, enjoys the freedom of creativity more willingly than giving importance to the investor's mindset.

"This decision was taken to stay in control of the business in the long run and scale in stealth mode," mentioned Jude Mohanty, Founder and CEO of Infiflex.

On the go with the endeavor of 2-member team of developers in Kolkata, India, Infiflex Technologies, a cloud computing company turned to 200+ work strength presently. The company foreseesa 1000 employee eminence in the next 5 years observing the current growth rate. With the Indian team in place, Infiflex is now moving beyond the borders ascending its operations in Singapore, USA and UAE.

The secret of its success is not far to seek! It works on flexibility of its products or services, with a hiring strategy to increase the number of perfect employees and planning proper cash flow.

Another role of prospect is without using any third party software, the core team had infused focused effort to build the flagship product GIFFY, which runs on Google Appending as its internal CRM/ERP.

"Whenever the need arose to enhance functionalities, it was done by our internal development team. It turned out to be a game changer as the expenses were limited without any dependency on any third party," informed Jude.

Jude Mohanty
Founder & Trend Setter
Infiflex Technologies Pvt Ltd.

Offering business consultancies and optimal solutions through cloud based products and services, Infiflex is extensively successful becoming the most trusted partner of Google, AWS and Google cloud platform.

The company serves as Sales Partner for Microsoft and Amazon too, in the Cloud Services status quo. Its recent Media venture is growing at a steady pace.

The primary objective of the company is to hire professionals and train them up on state-of-the-art cloud technologies with the foundational infrastructure laid fundamentally by Google, Microsoft and Amazon. This step will open up new opportunities of employment for the deserving technology professionals and also write a new chapter of success.

FIT BIT

UBHAYA PADANGUSTHASANA
(BOTH BIG TOE POSE)

This pose is a seated balancing yoga pose and is considered more of a challenging posture in the Ashtanga Yoga Primary Series. It is sometimes also referred to as the Balancing Stick Pose as the energy of the entire body is towards balancing on the sit bones alone with legs stretched out up and straight.

STEPS
- Lie down in Savasana, take a few breaths and focus to the core as you exhale. Inhale and raise the upper body to about 40 degrees from the floor.
- Exhale completely, keep the arms stretched out and raised in front of you, also at 40 degrees.
- Inhale again and raise the lower body, to 40 degrees from the floor and using the core strength, exhale completely and balance for 6 breathes.
- Slowly inhale, keeping the abdominal area tight.
- Raising the legs a bit more upwards, slowly hold on to the toes with your fingers and stretch the legs out completely while exhaling slowly. Bend the knees a bit to hold the toes first and then stretch the legs out.
- Inhale slowly and now, lengthen your torso and balance on your sit bones, keeping your spine straight. Don't let your lower back sag, chest collapse.
- With slow breathing, straighten your legs, bring the body into a V shape. Remain with eyes open. Take slow inhalations and relax the entire body muscles to remain in the pose longer for 6 breaths.
- Inhale and exhale bring the legs down first and then release the pose. Relax in Savasana.

BENEFITS
- Leg muscles from the hip, arms from the shoulders are stretched.
- Opens the chest and the shoulders.
- Relieves backaches and tones muscles around the spine.
- Helps the spine carry the prana smoothly.
- Stimulates the nervous system and brings in fresh oxygen to the brain and keeps it more active.
- Core strength holds and balances the body on the sitting bones.
- Tightening of the abdominal muscles tones the tummy and the core becomes strong.
- Improves the concentration of the mind and eliminates stress.

LIMITATIONS

Those with injury in their hips, shoulders, neck, arms, lower back; women during pregnancy, periods and miscarriage, and those suffering from blood pressure, migraine, hernia, haemorrhoids, irritable bowel syndrome (IBS), slipped disc should avoid this. People who have undergone surgery, have balancing problems, possess weak bone structure, and are new to yoga should be guided by a yoga expert.

Speak Easy, Speak Clean

MIXOLOGY
Sachin Maheshwary
General Manager, Grand Mercure Bengaluru at Gopalan Mall

NOT so long ago, we were on the bar stools enjoying the artful flambe, the smoked, sparked and flamboyant creations of the mixologist. Yet as we slowly recover from the months of lockdown and make our way back to the counter, the love f or all things vivid and sparkling seems to fade. Coming into the limelight, though it is not quite in its very essence to do so, are the cocktails of the prohibition era and interestingly, many outlets with a vague resemblance of a blind tiger or, as most of us know, "Speak Easy".

From a simple password granting entrance to unconventional conversions, riddled and unassuming entries, the town has reached back and borrowed ideas from the early 1900s to keep its ever-demanding audience on its toes. Many of the iconic "prohibition" cocktails, be it the old-fashioned, sidecar or highball will definitely be revamped, ready to fuel the new demand. The concept of shrubs or drinking vinegar is also seeping back in as a favoured mixer for the coming days.

As the classics make their way back to one side, the other is taken up by simple ingredient-focused cocktails. Local ingredients like turmeric, sandalwood and betel leaves make their way into the glass along with homemade bitters and syrups. For instance, at 1026 AD, the bar at Grand Mercure Bengaluru Gopalan Mall, we stew fresh Indian plums and Devanahalli pomelos to create essences for the cocktails. The oranges and mangoes and other local fruits are made into fruit leathers that garnish the drinks. We also do a selection of infusions featuring a curation of seasonal fruits and native spices.

Blue pea flower, rosemary and other herbs will continue to elevate our drinks, albeit in a subtle manner. A herb garden by the bar and freshly plucked herbs for your drink could become a common sight in the future. With the glasses being more focused on two or three ingredients, the added sugars and simple syrups will also fade out, resulting in a much cleaner avatar.

So, as we get ready with our weekend avatars and head out to the city's many bars, pubs and microbreweries, a new wave of cocktails and spirits slowly washes over our feet. Expect your drinks to be beautiful from within with more wholesome elements than just a dramatic veil.

Expect classics but in a new abstract, homemade cocktail shrubs featuring local fruits, fresh plucked herbs garnishing the drinks and, of course, a whole lot of love and passion in every glass!!

Cheers!

RUBINATIONS
Rubi Chakravarti
Writer, actor and funny girl

MORE than six weeks have flown by and my life has been irrevocably changed for the better. Who would imagine that an itty-bitty human with dancing black eyes and a dimpled smile would captivate the heart of so many adults.

Being the youngest 'un so far in the third-generation brat pack, her newly minted uncles and aunts (Alisha's cousins) are flying in from different corners of the globe just to welcome the baby into their fold! How happy that makes me! I have mentioned this often, but I cannot reiterate enough that growing up in a nuclear family of five, (my parents had a mixed marriage) was lonely. Now to have my kids surrounded by the madness, mayhem and love of their cousins, aunts and uncles, always brings a lump to my throat. The universe has been kind and I am grateful.

Now more than ever, Mumbai has an added attraction for me. Not only is there a bundle of cuteness waiting for me here, but also the joy of meeting old friends, visiting old haunts and shopping! No one can beat the shopping in this city. You name it, you can have it. From the finest to the worst of things. Trading, it is whispered, can be done from human beings to Rolls Royce spare parts! There is a dark underbelly in this city like most mega-cities worldwide, but the beauty is that our paths don't cross. Drug lords and underworld kingpins have always existed in this city's diaspora, but never did the two meet. The cops made sure of that until two unfortunate incidents shook this city to its foundations. But like everything that this great city does, the resilient Mumbaikars carry on regardless.

Ranveer Bhandari and Dana Bhandari

Thanks to my kids and nieces, I too have 'carried' on…into metamorphosing into a shopping addict! I discovered that everything here could be bought, returned and re-bought! Online and retail outlets are geared to pull one into a dark abyss of spending money till you tap out.

Tara Kapur & Monisha Mullick

Shop till you drop is not for the faint-hearted for sure!

Luckily for me, my friends from Mumbai and Bengaluru kept in touch. I love meeting up with them because it always gives one a fresh perspective since we are all nearly in the same place in life. A 'dekko' of where we are with a fresh pair of eyes always helps. Tara Kapur and Monisha Mullick are friends from school. Both of them were bright, intelligent and, like good convent-educated girls…' good' while I rebelled! We met up at a wish pan-Asian restaurant, Mizu, to eat a fabulously ordered menu. Tara now runs an uber-successful food company called Bizarre Baker after heading a leading PR agency for a long time. Monisha runs her own perfume company and is also one of the most accomplished salsa dancers who compete professionally. I did find the time to drive up to Nariman Point to meet with my favourite ex-Bangaloreans, Dana and Ranveer Bhandari. Ranveer has taken over as Senior VP of Oberoi Hotels, and Dana is as loving and ethereal as ever. Lunch with them at the restaurant Indian Jones was almost sublime. The delicious lobster, fish and soft-shell crabs cooked to perfection, eaten with loving friends with the sea crashing against the rocks reminded me how blessed I was.

It was now time to come home!

Yogaraj Bhat's directorial produced by Rockline Venkatesh has the latter playing a police officer

On the sets of Karataka Damanaka

SHIVARAJKUMAR, PRABHUDHEVA'S FILM TITLED KARATAKA DAMANAKA

Shivarajkumar

Prabhudheva

A SHARADHAA

YOGARAJ Bhat's directorial starring Shivarjkumar and Prabhudheva has been titled Karataka Damanaka (KD). The film produced by Rockline Venkatesh had been tentatively titled Kuladalli Keelyavudo.

Interestingly, the name is derived from the central characters of the Mitra-bheda (Loss of friends) book of the Panchatantra, which has Karataka, and Damanaka. It will be quite interesting to see how the essence of this story is told in an action entertainer format by Yogaraj Bhat.

Apart from producing this multilingual film, Rockline Venkatesh is also playing an important cop role alongside the lead cast. The film also stars Nishvika Naidu and Priya Anand as the female leads. V Harikrishna will be composing music for the film, and Santhosh Rai Pathaje is the cinematographer.

Actor-politician Ramya returns to cinema, to produce films

CE FEATURES

RAMYA, the star actor who ruled the Kannada industry a couple of years ago, later entered politics. Now she has taken a break from politics and is back to doing what she likes the best: Films.

The actor, who had been hinted at coming back to the silver screen has finally, made an announcement. "I am going to be doing films again! This time though I will also be producing them through my production house Apple Box Studios," she mentioned in a note.

Ramya goes on to explain why she chose the name. "Despite being a simple set property, the apple box is very useful during the shoot. It can also be used in multiple ways. It is known for both its simplicity and utility, so I went ahead with the name."

Her first production venture will be a theatrical release and will be distributed under their KRG Studios banner. Ramya also plans to back OTT films and web series through her production house.

She goes on to thank her fans, friends and family for their support and producer Vijay Kiragandur, Jayanna, Karthik Gowda and Yogi G Raj for their encouragement. The actor turned producer will soon reveal details about her first venture. There were rumours of her collaborating with Raj B Shetty for a project, and she has also dropped a hint of them teaming up. However, an official confirmation is awaited on this.

Abhijit Mahesh's directorial debut Bachelor Party is backed by Rakshit Shetty

The director talks to CE about his first venture, a comedy adventure, which is produced by Paramvah Studios

CE FEATURES

BACHELOR Party will be another interesting project coming from the stellar lineup of Rakshit Shetty's production house, Paramvah Studios. The film, which was officially launched recently, marks the studios' return to comedy after the blockbuster Kirik Party.

Backed by multiple star casts, the film marks the directorial debut of Abhijit Mahesh and brings together Rishab Shetty, Diganth Manchale, Achyuth Kumar and Rakshit Shetty for the lead cast. The film also stars Siri Ravikumar and Achara Kirk, a Thailand-based YouTuber.

Abhijit, who began shooting on Friday, says, "My journey with Rakshit Shetty began when I started as a short filmmaker. After Kirik Party, we haven't done a full-fledged comedy entertainer. Buddy comedy is my favourite genre. Since Rakshit gave a heads-up for me to direct a movie, I pitched a story to him and it has become a feature film."

Team Bachelor Party; (r) Achara Kirk

While the three characters played by Diganth, Rishab and Achyuth are comical, Rakshit Shetty's role has got of substance.

Abhijit states that the title as Bachelor Party, the structure of the film is very fresh. "Associating with people like Rakshit and Rishab has always been fun. The first person who I contacted outside the group was Diganth because I knew he fits the bill."

Rakshit Shetty, who is producing the film along with GS Gupta, is happy to be back with a film like Bachelor Party. "The comedy adventure is set to wade into the sphere of humour in a very stylised and fresh manner. The film is a satirical take on marriages and love life," he says.

The music for Bachelor Party is scored by Arjun Ramu and the cinematography by Aravind Kashyap. Bachelor Party also has a wide range of supporting cast like Pawan Kumar, Sowmya Jaganmurthy, Balaji Manohar, Prakash Thuminad, Raghu Ramankoppa, Shobhraj, and Guruprasad.
